99 Days, No Trial

Briefly Free, Back to Cell

TORONTO (UPI) — An international incident loomed Monday over the plight of a Buffalo Negro held in Toronto's Don Jail for 99 days without a trial.

Harry Hooper, 27, finally got his day in court but it lasted only a few minutes.

Little time was wasted returning him to the cell he has called home since Feb. 16.

Hooper came to Toronto Feb. 15 to visit his four-year-old son and his estranged wife. A day later he was arrested, charged with common assault on his wife, and tossed in jail.

NO ANSWER

This charge was later dropped, said assistant defence attorney Allan Mintz, and not replaced until May 19 when Hooper was charged with unlawfully refusing to answer a question under Section 50 of the Canada Immigration Act.

A letter from Hooper to prominent criminal lawyer Arthur Martin was turned over to the Ontario Legal Aid Society and immediate steps were taken to clear up the situation.

The case came before Magistrate Robert Dnieper last Friday, but because of prejudicial evidence given by an immigration department official it was turned over to Magistrate S.

Race Riot Injures Soldier

CAMBRIDGE, MD. (UPI) — A Negro National Guard soldier was slightly wounded by gunfire and other troopers injured Monday night in rioting quelled when troops fired tear gas in the Negro section of this racially torn Eastern Shore community.

Other national guardsmen were injured by flying bottles, rocks and other debris when they attempted to stop a demonstration. A spokesman said at least one other soldier apparently suffered a broken arm from a hurled rock.

An official police statement said the hundreds were killed in the tragedy Sunday when police tear gas bombs hurled at rioters stampeded a panicked crowd into barred exit tunnels. Most victims were trampled to death.

Police clashed last night with students at the University Plaza. The students were demonstrating for the resignation of interior minister Juan Languasco, who controls the nation's police, for alleged police brutality at the National Stadium Sunday.

Earlier, at the stadium itself, police routed looters attempting to sack the stadium's bars and offices where silver trophies are kept.

Mounted police rode into the estimated 1,000 students, swinging truncheons as assault police waded into them on foot. Police water cannons rolled up and began to douse the students. The police then hurled tear gas bombs as the students retreated toward the campus.

Sawmill Goes Up Like a Torch

Firemen fought in vain last night as a $25,000 sawmill went up like a torch that could be seen for miles around Greater Victoria.

The alarm went out that the Ideal Sawmills Company Limited, owned by Mohan Singh, at Tyee Road, was burning at 9:40 p.m. Within 15 minutes flames shot 20 and 30 feet into the air as the whole single-storey building was completely consumed.

MORE MEN

Fourteen city firemen in a truck and with two pumps rushed to the blaze and a call went out for 10 additional men.

In the nearby SPCA building, dogs, scared by all the noise, barked and howled.

Father of four, Mr. Singh, looked on helplessly with a couple of his four employees as his business went up in smoke.

"I had orders coming up worth around $100,000," he said. "I can't imagine how it started. And the place isn't fully covered by insurance for something like this."

ON SCENE

Extra firefighter on the scene to help the first city firemen to arrive was John Desmond Shaw who stays at the Salvation Army hostel on Johnson Street.

Service Plans Known Today

OTTAWA (UPI) — Defence Minister Hellyer will unveil details of his defence reorganization plans when he appears before the Commons defence committee today, it was learned Monday.

The 24-member committee will launch its study of the bill, currently before the Commons, that would abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff committee to replace it with a single commander-in-chief of the three services.

* * *

Mr. Hellyer, in presenting his bill to the Commons, said he intended to appoint the present staff committee chairman, Air Chief Marshal Frank Miller, as Canada's first chief of the defence staff.

The defence minister is expected to go into detail at the committee hearing, and outline for the first time the new branches of the proposed single service force. Each branch will be headed by a senior officer responsible, under the chief of defence staff, for his branch in all three services until complete unification is achieved.

France Pushes Wedge Deeper

While the U.S. state department was turning down French and Soviet proposals for a new Geneva conference on Laos—the third country carved from the former French Indochina 10 years ago—French ambassador Roger Seydoux urged the UN security council to call a new conference on Cambodia, a proposal rejected by the United States.

Timely French Toast

Laos

Troops Fight In Trap

VIENTIANE (AP) — About one-third of Laos' battered neutralist army, surrounded by Communist forces near the Plaine des Jarres, was locked in battle Monday in an all-out effort to break out of the trap.

The defence ministry said 1,500 neutralist troops and 23 tanks, routed from a stronghold at Muong Kheung on the northwestern fringe of the strategic Plaine, had been trying in vain since Sunday night to make a breakthrough.

Military sources said reports from the battle zone, 110 miles northeast of Vientiane, indicated it was the heaviest fighting since the pro-Communist Pathet Lao launched their offensive 10 days ago.

Blood Flows In Valley Of Tears

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Racial strife between Negroes and East Indians raged Monday in the Valley of Tears, 25 miles from this British Guiana capital, and the death toll in four days of violence rose to 26, police reported.

Flag Issue

MPs Planning Filibuster

OTTAWA (CP)—A nucleus of MPs, mostly among Progressive Conservatives with an occasional New Democrat, say privately they are prepared to fight the current flag issue to a general election.

None seems ready to accept Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to propose a non-confidence motion in the minority Liberal government on the issue, but the dissidents are preparing to mount what ultimately may become a filibuster against the flag resolution scheduled to be introduced to the Commons later this week.

WEAPONS

Or it might count on the pressure of public opinion swinging so strongly against the filibusterers that they would stop short of their objective.

And there was speculation the government might seek this defence by placing implementation of the Canada pension plan on the order paper directly following the flag motion, thus placing filibustering MPs in the position of holding up pensions.

This suggestion followed a statement by Prime Minister Pearson that, if provincial approval is forthcoming, the government may have the pensions amendment on the order paper this week.

NDP QUERY

Mr. Pearson made the statement in answer to Stanley Knowles (NDP, Winnipeg North Centre) who asked whether discussion of the amendment would be given precedence over discussion of a Canadian flag.

He declined to say what matter would have precedence.

NIBBLE AWAY

Meanwhile, the opposition continued to nibble away at Mr. Pearson on the flag issue, but there still wasn't a hint as to what the proposed maple leaf flag will look like.

The prime minister gave away nothing when Erik Nielsen (PC—Yukon) sought comment on a report broadcast over radio station CKNW in New Westminster that the flag will have one red maple leaf on a plain white background.

"Purely speculative," said Mr. Pearson.

But the prime minister did tell

No Flag —Banner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Don Poirier, 26, a Socialist soapboxer says flags are created by capitalists to gain loyalty from the subjected masses and exploited workers.

Mr. Poirier climbed aboard a green stepladder in Stanley Park Sunday and declared: "Any flag is just a rag in the view of the Socialist Party.

When queried about the Socialist Party's own flag, Mr. Poirier said: "Well, it's not exactly a flag. It's a banner."

Union Goons Wreck, Rip New Homes

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A gang of union terrorists raided a housing project with clubs, axes and hammers yesterday, causing thousands of dollars damage. The raiders chased 35 workmen from their jobs and injured at least six of them, including a man hurled downstairs.

The builder had been warned by an anonymous telephone call to expect trouble at the construction project because alleged non-union employees were working.

SWEPT THROUGH

A police labor squad detail had patrolled the area this morning, but left shortly before the gang of more than 100 men swept through the project swinging axes and hammers.

They smashed locks with axes, ripped out window sills, drain pipes and iron banisters and tore newly-placed kitchen cabinets from the walls.

WELL PLANNED

The attack apparently had been well planned. As the gang swept through the project, small details broke off from the larger group and entered individual houses.

Police Grab Dynamite, Separatists

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police claimed yesterday to have smashed another revolutionary group dedicated to Quebec separatism through violence.

Three members of a group known as the "Quebec Independence Party" were arrested during the weekend and 200 sticks of stolen dynamite recovered.

The trio, said to be in their early 20s, were scheduled to appear before a fire commissioner's court.

Heaviest Spaceship

Moonshot Test Set for Today

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States' biggest rocket is set to orbit the world's heaviest known spaceship today in the space test opener of the drive to land men on the moon by 1970.

A 190-foot Saturn-1, using a new guidance system that makes its own computations in flight, is expected to set a new spacecraft weight record when it hurls an 8½-ton dummy Apollo moonship into earth orbit.

ON SCHEDULE

The 18-hour countdown for the 1,500,000-pound thrust rocket and its payload started yesterday and was proceeding on schedule toward the 7 a.m. launch time today.

Weather, a factor which could affect the launch, is not expected to be a problem. A space agency spokesman said the outlook is "beautiful."

The shot, first space launching here in six weeks, is a twin test of the rocket and the basic three-man moonship design. Scientists consider the flight "an important phase in the test program."

Rhodesia Unwelcome

LONDON (CP) — Southern Rhodesia likely will be excluded from the forthcoming conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, it was learned Monday.

The most determined objectors to its presence are reported to be India, Pakistan, Ghana and Kenya.

Waving Cutlass, Fanny Hill

His Lordship Now Pirate

* * *

Wearing a purple buccaneer cloak and brandishing a cutlass, his screaming lordship boarded a 60-foot fishing boat and announced plans to anchor outside territorial waters and beam his scream back to the British.

His boat will join two pirate ships, Radio Caroline and Radio Atlanta, all trying to break the BBC's radio monopoly.

* * *

Caroline and Atlanta are in it for the advertising. Screaming Lord Sutch — real name Dave Sutch — said, however, that he will not take ads.

"There are thousands of talented youngsters in Britain all waiting for a chance," he said.

* * *

"Radio Sutch will give them a break. And if only one group really clicks, then I'm in business as a manager."

Sutch said he plans to start broadcasting Wednesday with his own group to provide the core of programs.

He plans three daily transmissions totalling seven hours.

The late night transmission, he said, will include bedtime stories—readings from Lady Chatterley's Lover and Fanny Hill.

Los Angeles

Police Seeking Killer Of 'Very Nice' Girl

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sheriff's detectives Monday attempted to unravel the mystery slaying of a "very nice" young English housekeeper troubled by insomnia who was shot and killed shortly before dawn Sunday.

Pretty Patricia Moulden, 22, died of a bullet wound in the brain fired at close range, according to a coroner's autopsy.

Detective Sgt. Walter Thornton said an investigation showed the victim suffered from insomnia and got up before dawn two or three times a week to take a walk or short drive in the foothill community of La Canada.

Thornton said Miss Moulden apparently repeated the same pattern early Sunday and was shot and killed by an unknown assailant, perhaps someone who had seen her there before. Her body was found slumped in her car shortly before dawn.

"She was a very nice girl and had a fine reputation," Thornton said concerning any theory she had a boy friend who might have killed her.

SCREAMS HEARD

Screams from the woman aroused neighbors. Her body was found by William Morris, who hired Miss Moulden 18 months ago through an employment agency. A neighbor, Ovid Gonzales, said he heard the shot and saw a "big, dark car" turn into a driveway, back up and drive away.

ATTIRED FOR BED

Gonzales said the victim had come to his house about 11 p.m. in the evening, attired for bed. He invited her in for coffee. He said she and his daughter sat up looking over a school yearbook until about 1 a.m., but apparently left about that time.

PEKING (Reuters)—Communist China is building a big bridge over the Mekong River just north of the conjunction of Laos, Burma and Thailand, the Communist newspaper People's Daily reported Friday. It said the 1,100-foot reinforced concrete bridge is nearing completion.

Khrushchev Winds Up Advantageous Visit

He got the nickname because the Egyptians found Khrushchev hard to pronounce, while Artichoke — which comes out "Karshoof" in Arabic—seemed to fit handily.

CROWD PLEASER

From a tumultuous greeting in Alexandria 17 days ago to his climactic dedication of the first stage of the Soviet-financed Aswan Dam, Khrushchev's dumpy figure proved a crowd pleaser such as Egypt had never seen.

Though Khrushchev occasionally upset his hosts with his outspoken manner and publicly argued with Nasser over the nationalist versus Communist interpretation of Arab unity, such bobbles cost little. And there was every indication that, speaking privately to Nasser and his heir-apparent, Abdel Hakim Amer, Egypt's defence boss, Khrushchev persuasively argued that Soviet and Arab interests were identical.

Grasshoppers Hatching

REGINA (CP) — Grasshoppers have begun hatching in the Regina, Estevan and Saskatoon areas. Cliff Barrett, provincial pest control specialist, says.

"With continued hot dry weather, early hatching should be general within a week," he said.

Medications and Mealtimes Have Important Relationship

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: What factors determine whether medications should be taken before, during or after meals?—T.C.M.

A sane, sensible question! It depends on the purpose of the medicine, sometimes on its irritating qualities (or "side effects), and others.

Aspirin, for example, taken on an empty stomach can irritate the membranes of that organ to the point of bleeding. Not much, but a little. Taken with or after meals, it is less likely to do this. Aspirin is a good drug, but it can have its bad points, so we guard against them. That's true of nearly any medicine.

DIGESTIVE AIDS

Preparations designed to stimulate the appetite are taken before a meal. Those intended to aid digestion are taken with a meal.

In cases of hyperacidity (excess acid in the stomach, a common problem with ulcers), a drug to neutralize acid is most effective when taken one or two hours after a meal, because the acidity is high then but the stomach is nearly empty.

Drugs to reduce spasm in relation to eating are taken either before or after eating, depending on when the patient gets the best results.

MEALS 'TIMERS'

In some forms, penicillin is taken by mouth, and is more effectively absorbed on an empty stomach, or before a meal.

Meals are used for the timing of medicines which should be spaced four to six hours apart. Thus "taken at mealtimes" or "three times a day" may be no more than a convenient way to remember when to take them.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does sinus trouble cause distress in back of the eyes and at the temple? —MRS. I.H.

Yes, those areas, particularly around the eyes, can ache because of congested sinuses.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there something wrong when the stool is black. Or greenish-black. I am 61 and have not felt up to par in recent months. I have pains in the upper part of my stomach, chest and back. I am not fat, but I went on a diet of greens to see if I could get rid of stomach bloat. I lost five pounds, but it didn't do much for my stomach. I am 5 feet 7 and weigh 155.—MRS. W.F.

Some foods, especially those containing iron, can cause the stool to be black, so the diet of greens might (or might not) be the cause in your case. If the blackish color is present when you eat an ordinary diet, report this fact to your doctor at once. Bleeding in the upper intestinal tract can cause this color. The symptom should not be ignored. (Incidentally, a "diet of greens" is not well-balanced, hence not the best way to lose weight safely.)

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes warts? I had about seven on my fingers. Now they have disappeared and there is no indication they were ever there. —MISS E.P.

A special virus apparently causes some warts, and maybe all. When we were kids, we never worried about 'em. These days people are more inclined to fret about such things, but sooner or later they go away, and if you haven't tried any drastic treatments, they don't leave any scars.

'I'm Cary, He's James' Quips Visiting Beatle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One half of the Beatles singing group arrived here Monday after a three-week vacation in Tahiti, quipped briefly with newsmen, and then were whisked away for a few hours' tour of the city before continuing their flight home to London.

A dozen teen-age girls were among those greeting singer John Lennon, 23, his wife Cynthia, and fellow Beatle George Harrison, 20, and his fiancee, Patricia Byrd.

When asked to identify themselves one of the beat vocalists said, "I'm Cary Grant and he's James Mason."

Freedom Was Brief

Tupper Bigelow and rescheduled for Monday.

Shortly before Monday's proceedings began it was announced that Toronto lawyer Stanton Hogg had been retained to represent the department.

Hogg asked that Hooper be remanded for three weeks to allow him time to study the case.

The request was opposed by John Weisdorf, director of the Legal Aid Society, who felt that Cooper had spent enough time in jail.

The magistrate approved the remand, but also ordered that Cooper be released on his own recognizance until the hearing.

Before Cooper was able to leave the courtroom and return to the free world, he was spirited away by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and rushed back to jail, where he was held on a deportation order.

A bitter Weisdorf said later the case would erupt into an embarrassing international incident.

'SMELLS WORSE'

"I wouldn't be surprised if New York Governor Rockefeller and the U.S. state department have something to say on this case," he vowed.

The lawyer said, although the fact that Cooper is a negro appeared to have no direct bearing on the case, it "makes it smell even worse." He said there was a need to revamp the Immigration Act.

Weisdorf said he and his assistant, Mr. Mintz, were going to wait and see what the immigration department did before taking any further action.

"If something doesn't happen by tomorrow," he said, "we will apply for habeas corpus."

An immigration department spokesman said he was awaiting further information from Ottawa on the case, and declined immediate comment.

"The behavior of the RCMP and the immigration department in this case is nothing short of scandalous," Mr. Mintz said.

the House that he has been in touch with the Queen on at least two occasions in connection with the flag, "in an informal way" through the Queen's private secretary, "as a matter of courtesy."

The Queen's advice was not sought, he said.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker twice tried and failed to get an answer to questions about a possible referendum on the "Pearson pennant."

Outside the Commons, there was more reaction to the flag issue.

At Fredericton, N.B., some 300 members of the Red Ensign-supporting Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, attending the order's 64th annual meeting, approved a telegram telling the prime minister and leaders of the opposition parties it "deplored" the fact Canadians "are being deprived of their right" to vote on a Canadian flag.

"The IODE strongly urges that the prime minister hold a national plebiscite," the telegram said.

Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba said in Winnipeg that provincial legislation, requiring schools to fly the Red Ensign, will stand, regardless of whatever action the federal government may take.

In St. John's, Nfld., Premier Joseph Smallwood said letters have been "pouring in" recently indicating that the people of Newfoundland "demand that the Union Jack or the Red Ensign —or both—be kept as the flag of Canada . . ."

SIX BLOCKS

Builder Roy Fuiman estimated that damage to the 12 homes in the project was between $12,000 and $15,000.

He said the men working in the project were employees of a construction company he has done business with for several years.

ANONYMOUS CALL

Fuiman said he received an anonymous telephone call last Friday warning him there might be trouble at the project. He said that a group of men also called at the construction site and warned the workmen to lay down their tools and get out of the area.

Lieutenant Michael Levin, of the police labor squad, and a detail of four men showed up at the project when the men reported for work but when there were no incidents, the police left.

LAST MARCH

The project has been picketed since last March, Fuiman said. He said he had given the workers orders to run—not fight—if violence broke out.

Marching Mob Blames Police For Lima Deaths

By THOMAS J. STONE

LIMA, Peru (AP)—An angry mob marched on the home of a police commander Monday but was blocked by police reinforcements struggling to keep order after rioting and panic at a Sunday soccer game killed hundreds.

The marchers accused Commander Jorge de Asambuja of having ordered tear gas fired into the crowd.

The demonstration underscored Peruvian government concern that led to a modified form of martial law following the tragedy at Lima's national stadium. Mounted police were kept busy breaking up groups of angry people around the stadium.

Gates Blamed

Some witnesses blamed locked gates at the end of exit tunnels for the deaths of many in the mass of humanity that piled up trying to get out of the stadium. The accused police commander, Jorge de Asambuja, also said the locked gates were to blame for the mass suffocation and trampling that occurred.

A full day later officials were still counting bodies and would not guess at an official death toll. Newspaper estimates of the dead ran from 200 to 315 in the sports world's worst disaster. Earlier estimates had said between 400 and 500 died.

A government communique asked the people to be calm, permitting the restoration of constitutional guarantees suspended after the disaster.

Tear Gas

The newspaper Expresso quoted Asambuja as saying he ordered the firing of six tear gas bombs to break up fighting on the field as fans tried to get at the referee. He denied any were fired into the stands.

Some witnesses said the stampede gained its full momentum when tear gas was fired into the stands.

The gates normally are kept locked during a game to keep gangs of youths and others from barging in. When the referee ended the game five minutes ahead of time because he judged the situation getting out of hand, some of the gates were still shut as the crowd surged toward the exits.

Out to Kill

The crowd literally set out to kill the referee. He escaped uninjured, protected by a police cordon.

Fighting broke out among irate fans, but the main body of the crowd struggled furiously to get out of the stadium. The south gates were open but the northern gates were locked.

Smothered

Witnesses described the horror that followed: Fans racing into the tunnels, piling one on another, screaming, crying for help. Many smothered. Some fell and were trampled to death.

The great press of bodies finally burst open the gates and the lucky ones fled into the street, gasping for breath. Behind them in the tunnels lay the bodies of the dead and injured.

The referee had to flee for his life and left Monday morning for Buenos Aires. The game was one of a series in the pre-Olympic soccer championships. President Teofilo Salinas of the Peruvian Football Federation said the referee's decision will be studied by a rules committee.

Details Asked

In Zurich, the International Soccer Federation expressed its sympathy for the victims and asked the Peruvian association for detailed information on the circumstances.

Helmut Kaeser, secretary-general of the federation, asked whether the federation would order the match replayed, said this was a decision for the South American government committee. He said there had been no violence in the 14 other matches played thus far in the South American elimination for the Tokyo Olympics.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano expressed sorrow at the tragedy and declared sports must avoid "excesses that debase human conditions."

Husky Fan Spark For Riot?

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A husky soccer fan called "Bomba" may have been the spark that set off the Sunday riots that killed hundreds and injured hundreds more in Lima's national stadium.

Police identified the fan as Matias Rojas, about 35, who has a reputation for referee baiting. He was reported under arrest.

Police said he was the first out of the stands, making for the referee after a decision on a goal.

Police grabbed him and dragged him off the field. But as soon as he was loose, he darted back into the field and was in the thick of the rioting that had broken out by then.

Fire Dance Tragedy Claims Seventh Life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died Monday of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The latest victim was Tau Lefiti Jr., like the others who died, a member of the city's Samoan community.

Meanwhile, one of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

David Quaine said he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirls in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a light and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up. Members of the Samoan Catholic Benevolent Society rushed for a front exit.

Where He Stands

SPEAKING in Montreal yesterday Justice Minister Favreau touched on the subject of national unity. He made no mention of the flag issue, however, brought to a fore by his own government in a manner that invites disunity because of its mandatory intentions.

About the same time in St. John's, Newfoundland, Premier Smallwood suffered no inhibitions on this theme. Unlike other provincial premiers who have been either coy or silent on the subject, including Mr. Bennett, he made no bones about where his province stands.

Newfoundland will continue to fly the Union Jack "if we are the last place in Canada to do so."

Mr. Smallwood said that reports are pouring in to him from all over his province, indicating that Newfoundlanders "demand that the Union Jack or the Red Ensign—or both—be kept as the flag of Canada, symbolizing her loyalty to the Throne and her membership in the British Commonwealth."

When he addressed the Royal Canadian Legion a week ago and avowed his intention to substitute the Red Ensign by a maple leaf flag, Prime Minister Pearson said he would still want the Union Jack to be flown—not as a national flag but as symbolic of Commonwealth membership and of allegiance to the Crown.

Mr. Smallwood would have that made official.

A new and otherwise distinctive flag cannot stand alone to represent Canada, he said. But if the Union Jack or the Red Ensign is retained by law, "we would have no objection if the same law constituted a separate and distinctive flag to symbolize Canada's nationhood."

If Mr. Pearson continues to ignore the requests from all over the country for a plebiscite to solve the flag issue—which would be the greatest assurance of unity on this subject no matter the result of such a national poll — he should take heed of Mr. Smallwood's views, whose government incidentally is of the same political party faith as his own federal regime.

If as Mr. Favreau says the Canadian future is a "dual-culture" one then equally the country should be able to absorb a dual-flag future, to represent the components of nationhood and of heritage. Nothing less is likely to reconcile the feelings the prime minister has stirred to high emotional content by his plan to compel Parliament to endorse his own personal choice.

If Mr. Pearson meant what he said when mentioning the Union Jack before the Royal Canadian Legion he has the opportunity to make amends and help to create the unity his present intentions undoubtedly will damage severely. For it is the "Jack" in the Red Ensign which because of Quebec is at the root of the current controversy.

Altering the Burden

OF INTEREST far beyond the confines of Manitoba is the recommendation of a commission there that a new line be drawn between the responsibilities of the provincial government and the municipalities. The commission recognizes in large measure the principle that property should be taxed—by the municipalities—for services to property and that provincial revenue should be used to pay for services to people.

This idea has been talked of for years and probably nowhere more strongly advanced by municipal representatives than in British Columbia, although so far to no avail. The municipalities have argued that such services as education, health and welfare are of benefit to the whole people and hence should be almost entirely the responsibility of the province with or without federal participation as circumstances might indicate. Taxation of lands and buildings within municipal borders hence could be devoted solely to bearing the cost of providing streets, sewers, and police and fire protection for example—amenities of direct benefit to property.

The Manitoba commission in following this general line of reasoning has suggested that the province should take on additional responsibilities that could be paid for with a two per cent sales tax and that as a result, the municipalities should be able to reduce their mill-rate, on the average, by nine mills.

It remains to be seen whether the government will act on the proposals; understandably it wants to give the report careful consideration before coming to any decisions. But if the recommendations are in the end accepted, municipal taxpayers everywhere will be concerned with the results of this precedent—the results in practice instead of in theory.

Should Manitoba try the new division of responsibilities, most important to the property owners would be whether, when provincial taxation increased, there was in fact a substantial and protracted compensating drop in the local levies. If there was, the burden would have been more equitably distributed without being increased in total.

The fear and the cynical expectation, however, must be that soon if not immediately the local boards would elevate the rates to and past the present levels, tackling work previously beyond municipal means.

In this case, everyone would be bearing a bigger load. The consolation for the property owner, however, would still be that his proportion of the total provincial-municipal expenditure would be smaller and fairer for the change.

Positive Reply

MR. STANLEY KNOWLES (Winnipeg North Centre): Mr. Speaker, may I direct a question to the Minister of Transport. In view of the minister's insistence a year and a half ago that parliament at that time should get on with its constitutional responsibility in the matter of redistribution, when can we expect this matter to be proceeded with?

Hon. J. W. Pickersgill (Minister of Transport): I would hope, sir, as soon as there was some indication it would be proceeded with.

Mr. Churchill: What do you mean by that?

Mr. Reid Scott (Danforth): I wish to ask the minister a supplementary question. If I heard him rightly he said the matter would not be taken up again until there was some indication it would be proceeded with. Does this mean the government is knuckling under to the Tory filibuster?

Mr. Pickersgill: The hon. gentleman, I think, misunderstood my answer. There was no negative in it at all.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax . . ."

By TOM TAYLOR

I WAS reading in a paper about a big tycoon of whom a union leader said: He looks at you very fierce." And then I had to go to the barber.

And lo and behold, waiting my turn in the shop, there I saw in a mirror what the union man had been talking about.

What an image! So stern, so serious, so fierce. And it was mine.

I was fearfully distressed, for inside me I was feeling quite chirpy.

"His face is the worst thing about him," quoth Shakespeare. I should hate to think so, really, although it's but vanity that makes us all feel that way.

We want to be gaily handsome instead of gloomily commonplace.

* * *

There was a man once who was having his portrait painted, and after a few sittings he grabbed the painting from the easel and ran off with it. The artist hadn't finished but the sitter feared any more touching would erase a likeness that was flattering.

He wanted to go down to posterity as a good-looking man.

I suppose the face is the biggest preoccupation of mankind. I looked up a book of quotations to see what great minds thought on the subject and surprised I was to find one by Claudette Colbert. Sandwiched between John Donne and Charles Dickens too, which is somewhat different company from that enjoyed by this lady in her screen heyday.

Miss Colbert must have been thinking of her own sex, for she is credited with: "It matters more what's in a woman's face than what's on it." This didn't encourage me much for if there's a lot on the face how can you see through the camouflage to what's in it.

* * *

Anyway I was interested in masculine faces.

These don't seem to have attracted much attention through the ages. All the authors quoted were enamored of the same theme.

Things like "There is a garden in her face," and "Her pure and eloquent blood spoke in her cheeks"—behind the rouge, I suppose. Or "Look on her face and you'll forget all," et cetera.

I could scarcely find any reference to the male face at all.

Only Shakespeare had a word for his fellows, usually not very complimentary either. "I have seen better faces in my time," says he, or "Your face, my thane, is a book wherein men may read strange natters."

Not very helpful in the circumstances.

* * *

I suppose there's nothing to be done about a face when it's your own. There is perhaps some comfort to be derived from the fact that at least it is one's own, and personal possessions being usually highly prized no doubt we should be thankful for what we've got.

Yet it cannot be true that a face reflects what's inside else I certainly should have mine lifted. Time and again I am accused of being down in the mouth when actually I'm as happy as a lark.

I wish I knew what to do about this conundrum.

It is not that I desire to emulate the man who pinched the portrait. Not at all. If face is really the worst thing about a person I must be content. For even in a barber's mirror I am bound to feel, my ego thrusting to the fore, that my image could be worse.

But why should it always tell a lie? Why should it show its gloomiest side in public? That is what disturbs me. And no end, I'm telling you.

The Burning Question

To Be or Not to Be—A New Flag?

Our Readers' Views

* * *

To be considered for publication in whole or in part, letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 200 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

Those of us who come of British stock observe with disappointment and misgiving the apparent determination of the federal government to introduce what they are pleased to call a "distinctively Canadian" flag—one which completely ignores the Union Jack which has so well served us since Confederation. The unimaginative design of a spray of three maple leaves means nothing, when with it's gorgeous autumn coloring, flourishes in the New England state just as it does in Canada.

There is, I think, some validity to the continent of French Canadians that they are not fully recognized in Canada, though they represent a third of our population. If we must have a new flag—and I am not yet convinced that such a thing is necessary—let us have an ensign with the Union Jack in one top corner, and the tri-color of France in the other. Then, if some silly ass wants to splash some maple leaves in the middle, I won't quarrel. But, without the Union Jack as part of our national emblem, I shall never fly any so-called Canadian flag. The Union Jack is my flag and will continue to be until I die.

You have analyzed the flag situation very completely in your editorials and we are fortunate in having such a worthy champion.

One is inclined to ask what (or who) lurks in the shadows that has brought about these blandishments towards Quebec. It seems to be a political move. Mr. Pearson must have seen the trend away from Liberalism two years ago when he campaigned on this question.

But why should Quebec call the tune? When for years in peace and war they have climbed on the backs of the rest of the country — I except the magnificent Van Doos, Regiment de Maisonneuve and Chaudiere Regiment from this statement.

Commercial institutions on banking, law, insurance, have been built up on British practices—not forgetting the traditions and drill ceremonials of our armed services—and the rest of Canada should have some say in what their future flag is to be.

F. T. CLARK,
1655 Hampshire Road.

On the television we were shown where an enterprising hotel manager (anxious to be the first to fly the so-called new flag), displayed it over his building.

He admitted he had it made from one of the tablecloths, which indicate very strongly that the word flag should be dropped like a hot potato and the monstroity known as:

"Canada's National Tablecloth."

OLD CONTEMPTIBLE.

* * *

The English-speaking element in Canada is not all "British" by any means, nor even preponderantly ultra-British. What about the Irish, Scottish, German, Polish, Ukrainian? Others besides the ultra-British fought under the Red Ensign, even the "Van Doos". But after a century of confederation only the ultras wish to hang on to the colonial status—and they are mostly Johnny-come-latelies.

All real Canadians prefer a real Canadian flag. English speech is no longer ultra-British either. It is rapidly becoming universal.

I hope your readers do not have the erroneous impression that the Canadian Legion at its convention in Winnipeg speaks for all ex-servicemen because it does not.

In my opinion the Legion's assertion that the Red Ensign is sacred because it is the flag under which Canadians fought and died is pure nonsense. I was in HMCS Charlottetown when she was torpedoed and sunk on September 11, 1942: nine of my shipmates were killed and 14 were wounded, but not under the now-sacred Red Ensign—Charlottetown, like other ships in the Canadian Navy, was flying a White Ensign. On December 29, 1944, when I was in HMCS St. Thomas and we were able to even the score by sinking an enemy U-boat, every ship in the group was flying the White Ensign—but to distinguish them as Canadian vessels each one had painted on its funnel not one, not two, but three maple leaves.

GEORGE F. GREGORY,

I would suggest the following: It is an extract from a book on Brazil which might be applied to Canada now!

"In South Africa and other places the politicians tell the police to shoot the blacks. Their problems get worse. Here (Brazil) the politicians shoot each other. Our problems get better."

How about a boycott of "Mr. Pearson's Flag?

G. B. BARNES.

* * *

Mr. Pearson says Canada needs a flag that is completely national, and distinctive of our country. What could be more distinctively Canadian than the Red Ensign which was given to us by a Liberal French-Canadian prime minister. It not only has the three maple leaves on one stem, suggestive of the fleur-de-lis, but it has the fleur-de-lis also. What more can Quebec want?

I'll tell you what Quebec wants. She wants the other nine provinces to be subservient to Quebec, and when this has been done, with Pearson's aid, she wants to make Canada a republic. This will be done, if the western provinces permit it, within a year. Then all of Canada will soon be as poor and as economically unsound as Quebec. Then, when the rest of the country is no longer able to support Quebec, where will the nation be?

The future seems to be in our hands. Either we have to insist on maintaining our own flag and our own nationhood and let Quebec have her separatism or toe the line and become real Canadians, or we have to sink to her level, which will be the end of Canada.

T. L. HOPE,

* * *

"No flag will be acceptable to me unless it finds a large degree of favor right across the country," writes Capt. David Groos, Liberal MP for Victoria. This straightforward statement and others similar to it, have been made by many prominent men in all levels of government, heads of business organizations, and others whose judgment is generally respected. In most cases the statement is qualified by "in the interest of national unity" or some other popular catch-phrase.

"In the interest of national unity" means that, and does not imply giving in to the demands of a small, importunate and vocal minority. If the wish of the people of Canada is to be followed, then all their individual feelings on this matter should be obtained and the necessary government action then taken.

This can only be achieved by a referendum, which would clearly indicate the wishes of the citizens of this country, and would provide a guide post towards unity, but possibly at the expense of political power.

Because Mr. Pearson used the flag question to gain political support in certain areas before the last general election is no reason why he should be permitted to force the country into another election now, or create further disunity by arbitrary action in forcing a weakly-designed trademark on a great country.

A MARI USQUE AD MARE.

Permit me to congratulate you on your very fine editorials covering the flag controversy. The Liberals tried to sell out Canada, as a nation, to the United States in 1912, when the reciprocity proposal of Laurier and Mackenzie King went before the electorate; now they are aiming at an apparent sellout over the flag issue to Quebec and France. The rest of Canada can take a back seat to the desires and aims of Quebec, as far as L. B. Pearson is concerned.

Let us not deceive ourselves; if we submit to the arrogant desires of the prime minister on the flag issue, there will be trouble. His wings must be clipped. Let the people decide through a plebiscite.

T. FOX-DECENT,
1586 Prairie Street.

* * *

I wonder how our neighbor to the south would react were they asked to replace their present number of stars (representing one for each state) with three? (Why three?)

Does Canada only have three provinces? To me, those three maple leaves are a replacement for the three plums on Quebec's coat of arms, or the fleur-de-lis, which also has a blue and white background. Having lived in Montreal for many years prior to 1936, one saw these flags occasionally, but I was astonished on a visit to Quebec in 1961; the fleur-de-lis flag was flying everywhere.

Having been a staunch worker for Legion services both in war and peace, I have a strong pride and attachment for the Red Ensign to continue to be Canada's national flag, but my sentiments here are purely personal and not any organization.

If we must have a purely Canadian flag, which is as it should be, have each province represented and not just three provinces in the east. In the meantime, let each province fly their own flag—underneath the Red Ensign.

(Mrs.) MARY WOODWARD,
72 Oswego Street.

* * *

I am in favor of the new flag proposed by the government and I admire Mr. Pearson for his stand.

It's about time we grew up here in Canada and managed all our own affairs completely. I'm pretty sure that Britain would rather us not use the Red Ensign as it's more like the British merchant marine flag.

Those people who stick to so many of the old ideas so strenuously still call Britain "home," although they have been here in Canada for many years; they call themselves patriotic but can't or won't display any patriotism to their adopted homeland. The New Canadians from countries other than the British Isles are much more loyal to Canada as a country able and willing to make its own decisions.

I was born of British parentage but I would be for country and Queen not Queen and country.

Changes in House

By RICHARD JACKSON
Colonist Ottawa Bureau

More and slowly more, as the long hard grind of the difficult session wears on, he wears down.

Eroding in front of the very eyes of the House, for all the opposition to see, is that rare ability—the once easy, relaxed affability—to grin and seem to shrug off his trouble with a quick quip.

* * *

It was quite a talent, that warmly pleasing amiability that enabled him to conceal from the opposition whatever irritation, annoyance and even deep concern that every prime minister must feel.

For a time, it seemed to give him at least the appearance of being personally invulnerable to the sniping of the opposition sharpshooters.

It has always been great parliamentary fun to bait the prime minister—any prime minister, from Mackenzie King through Louis St. Laurent to John Diefenbaker—and if he roared like a bear in anger, the political support was that much better.

And goodness knows, anybody who was listening—this particular political observation post of Ottawa Offbeat has been since 1941—knows how loudly each of them, on occasion, roared in rage.

But Prime Minister Pearson was supposed to be different.

* * *

He came to the job—very probably by long odds the most brutally demanding and just possibly the most impossible in all the land—as a political freshman, with the special and unusual recommendation of being among the creme de la creme of global diplomacy. His would be the fresh approach. His the "new politics," as he himself called it.

He was too urbane for anger, too sophisticated to show irritation, too civilized, as some said of him, to allow himself to become involved in the rude, sometimes crude, rough and tumble of partisan politics.

He would be above all that.

He would run the cabinet, Parliament and the nation like some exalted chairman of the board.

Canada would purr along with the smooth precision of General Motors.

Well, for a time, a short time, it looked like he just might do the impossible.

But then the problems began piling up, and because they just wouldn't go away even if they were ignored, they compounded.

It wasn't at all like General Motors.

It was a whole lot tougher.

It was a man-killer of a job that Lester Pearson had taken on, and it began to leave the unmistakable marks of worry and overwork on him just as it had on tough old Mackenzie King, gently genteel "Uncle Louie," and intensely intent John Diefenbaker.

Even worse, for this prime minister, the opposition has begun getting AT him.

He doesn't shrug off the harpoons with an amiable grin any more.

They hurt, and he shows it.

Astonishingly—and it is just that, astonishing, for this so-pleasant man—he loses his temper now.

The red rises in his neck, climbing like a crimson tide up his face to the hair line. His already too-high voice rises higher. And he makes the mistake, in irritation, of trying to slug it out, tongue-to-tongue, in slanging matches with Dief, who is still "chief" when it comes to tribal war in the Commons.

He has learned to stand off Dief, but only when he keeps cool. For when his temperature rises, as it now often does, he is lost.

* * *

Like the other day . . . Dief, past master in the fine art of the needle, jabbed him with a reminder that many people waiting for government action thought it high time the politicians "shut up and put up."

The prime minister's face flamed.

The House sat amazed.

Dief's words, he shouted, were offensive.

Then, astoundingly, he read the Old Warrior an ill-tempered lecture on "manners for former prime ministers."

Clearly the prime minister had lost control of himself, and in so doing, in a sense, of the Commons.

Dief, well content that another opposition spear had got deep under the thinning skin of the prime minister, boomed a well satisfied and unanswerable:

"Petulance is no substitute for action."

The pace and the pressure are beginning to tell.

Happy Birthday

Always Go East

By CASSANDRA

TIME: 3:20 a.m., Greenwich Mean Time. Place: Latitude 10.4. Longitude 180. Characters in Order of Appearance: Cassandra. Professor Abdomen, alias Stomach, alias Tum, alias Belly, alias Guts.

Cassandra — Stop a-rumbling down there below.

Professor Abdomen — What time is it?

Cassandra — About half-past three in the morning.

A—Where are we?

C—Crossing the International Dateline in the South Pacific Ocean on our way from Sydney, Australia, to San Francisco on the Californian coast of the United States. We are flying at an altitude of 37,000 feet at a speed of 540 miles per hour.

A—Is it light up there?

C—It is dark as the inside of a cow—or come to think of it, as dark as our joint inside, dear Professor.

* * *

A—What about lowering some groceries?

C—Look here, you voracious shark, do you remember what we had only a few hours ago in Sydney?

A—Just a morsel. A snack. Un petit bon bouche. A mere crumb.

C—You lie in your teeth—I mean you lie in our guts. All day yesterday which was my birthday — and your birthday — we celebrated.

For breakfast we had tomato juice followed by that traditional Australian platter of steak and eggs, plus toast and marmalade and about a quart of coffee. At lunchtime we had Oysters Kilpatrick, Grilled John Dory, French Fried Chips, Cheese and Coffee. We also had a quantity of Cooper's Melbourne Ale, much prized in the Antipodes.

In the evening, badgered by your famished cries, we settled down to a Giant Prawn Cocktail, a fourteen-ounce Steak Sirloin Maitre d'Hotel served with Tossed Green Salad and Baked Adelaide Potato.

A—I seem to recall some iron rations being sent down to celebrate the anniversary of your birth. I suppose we have to wait another year before we can keep body and soul together?

C—Much as I dislike your never-ending rumbling for more food and drink, I have some news for you.

A—And what might that be, O Spectre of Famine?

* * *

C—It is that we celebrate the birthday we had yesterday a second time today.

A—You mean that the birthday we had yesterday on Sunday we shall observe again today on Monday?

C—Not so, you bawling breadbasket.

A—How come?

C—When you are travelling east across the International Dateline you have two days the same. For instance the week runs Sunday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, etc. Or Monday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, etc. And so on.

* * *

A—You mean the menu today goes once more steak and eggs plus toast and marmalade and about a quart of coffee to rejoice your two birthdays in a row?

C—Precisely. More Oysters Kilpatrick, more Grilled John Dory, more Giant Prawn Cocktail, more Steak Sirloin Maitre d'Hotel all washed down with a sea of Cooper's Melbourne Ale.

A—Is there an exception to this excellent geographical rule?

C — Yes, indeed, Professor Guts. When you cross the International Dateline from East to West you miss a day. The order runs Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday, etc.

A—So if your birthday happens to fall on a Monday you've had it? I mean we've had it?

C—Precisely.

Arbitration Likely

Settlement Near In Alberni Strike?

The strike of 60 office workers, which has idled a total of 2,900 MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River employees in the Alberni Valley, may be close to settlement.

Mac-Powell officials and representatives of the Office Employees International Union Local 15 agreed yesterday to consider submitting the dispute to binding arbitration.

The proposal for arbitration was made by Labor Minister Peterson after six hours of futile bargaining in his office.

The minister said the union and management officials asked to be given until today to accept or reject the suggestion.

The meeting was called Saturday at the request of the union after Mac-Powell sent a letter to all employees which the union said contained a salary scale "different" from any previous figures.

Mr. Peterson said both sides indicated during the six hours they were prepared to "modify their positions in some respects, but the modifications were not great enough to bring us to common ground."

He said he regards the situation as "serious" in that the dispute was minor but had led to "major consequences."

New Meetings Today

If the two sides agree to arbitration new meetings will be held today to iron out terms of reference. Mr. Peterson said he hoped that if his proposal wins approval today the workers will be on the job again Wednesday.

He hoped the two parties would be able to agree on an arbitrator but had expressed willingness to make the selection himself if necessary.

Mr. Peterson declined to give details on new proposals by management and the union "since both sides may wish to express their strongest position to the arbitrator."

The negotiations began at 9 a.m. and broke off for lunch at 12:30. The teams resumed talks at 2 p.m. and continued until 4:30 p.m.

Before the talks began, leaders of the five big unions whose men have refused to cross the picket lines gave Mr. Peterson a brief stating union security is the main issue.

The brief was signed by Walter Allen, president of the IWA Local 1-85; Jack Whittall, president of the pulp and sulphite local; C. Ross, president of the longshore local; P. J. Bowman, president of the papermakers' local, and Ernie Hancock of the electricians' local.

Union Security Hurdle

The brief said the five unions feel common ground for an agreement can be established "once the hurdle concerning union security has been surmounted."

It pointed out this was the office union's first contract and went on, in part:

"Unions have learned through sad experience that more than certification is required to protect their position as the collective bargaining authority of the employees covered by the certification.

"Only when adequate union security provisions have been negotiated into a collective agreement can a union be satisfied that the company has properly accepted the union as the collective bargaining authority and will continue to do so."

Grandmother of 14 Dies in Car Crash

DUNCAN — A 60-year-old mother of seven children and grandmother of 14 was pronounced dead on arrival at King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday morning after a two-car crash at James Street and the Trans-Canada Highway.

Police said the victim, Mrs. Georgina Henrietta Paterson of Lake Cowichan, was the only passenger in a car driven by her husband Stanley, a Hillcrest Lumber Co. millwright.

VICTORIA MAN

They said the driver of the other car was William Lawrence McLaren of 431 Arnold in Victoria.

The police reported Mr. Paterson's car was travelling east on James and attempting to cross the highway when the northbound car of Mr. McLaren met its right side.

Funeral services will be held in Hirst's chapel at 2 p.m. Thursday and an inquest will begin in the same place at 7:30 p.m. June 2.

Mrs. Paterson, a native of Vancouver, came to Lake Cowichan about 10 years ago and was a member of the Order of the Royal Purple and IWA women's auxiliary.

More Money Needed By Visitors Bureau

In what promises to be a boom year for local tourism, Victoria Visitors Bureau may be forced to curtail its activities due to lack of funds, city finance committee was told yesterday.

A delegation headed by bureau president G. Conway Parrott told the committee an additional $25,000 would be needed this year to complete the program mapped out by commissioner Alan Maclean.

ALTERNATIVE

Mr. Parrott asked the city to increase its annual $50,000 grant to $60,000 or alternatively to match every dollar contributed by the business community over its 1963 total of $15,000.

Agreement by city council to the matching grant, said Mr. Parrott, would provide a stimulus to the business community which in the past has responded "rather poorly" to requests for financial support.

"This attitude, I feel, is due to the fact that the bureau has not demonstrated to our businessmen that the tourist industry is vital to Greater Victoria's economy," the president said.

POOR RELATIONS

In an industry that is growing more competitive each year, the prospect of spending more money to bring visitors here must be faced, he said.

Commissioner Maclean said "the apparent reluctance" of businessmen to support the bureau can be attributed to poor public relations.

Steps are now being taken to open channels of communication between the bureau and the business community.

"The visitors bureau must have more money even if it is to continue to operate as it has done," the commissioner told the committee, "and I believe we should expand our operations."

SPRING VISITORS

An intensified newspaper advertising campaign in the lower mainland of B.C. and the Pacific Northwest attracted many visitors during the Chamber of Commerce sponsored spring flower festival.

During the Victoria Day holiday weekend "the greatest ever travel to Vancouver Island and Victoria occurred," said Mr. Maclean.

EXTEND SEASON

The commissioner added: "We are looking forward to a continuation of this state of affairs in the remainder of 1964."

Mr. Maclean said he is convinced the present short tourist season can be extended in both spring and fall by selling Victoria throughout B.C. and the Western U.S. and winter tourism can be increased in the Prairie market.

CONVENTIONS

He added that more convention business—"a field that has been terribly neglected"—can also be brought here in the off-season.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said he believes the visitors bureau today is "doing a much-improved job" but he added that the request for an additional grant to meet higher costs comes about two months too late.

BUDGET FIXED

"It puts the city council in an awkward position because our budget for 1964 is already established," the mayor said.

Vocational School Won't Include Adults

Department of education is going ahead with plans for a vocational school in the greater Victoria area, but it won't include academic education for adults.

RCAF BUILDING

Adult education program, now conducted by School District 61, will be continued and expanded by the board which is seeking use of the RCAF Headquarters building at Quadra and Yates, now practically empty.

In a press release issued by Education Minister Peterson following a meeting with trustees of District 61 on adult education, the minister said that trustees have agreed to recommend a suitable site for the vocational school an dto suggest types of training.

Cost of the vocational school will be borne by provincial and federal government but to get money from Ottawa, the school must be built by 1967.

Court Plan Endorsed

Oak Bay council last night decided to accept recommendations of the Greater Victoria Family and Children's Court Committee to convert the old detention home on Coldharbor Road into a family and children's court.

The committee members proposed that the intermunicipal formula of cost sharing be applied to the $5,000 project.

Career Carved Out of Stone

By KEN JOHNSON

English teacher Kenneth Bloomfield has been carving out a spare-time career over the past two years — in solid stone.

A staff member at Victoria High, Mr. Bloomfield, 10947 Madrona Drive, Deep Cove, spends his leisure hours as a sculptor.

He's been working in clay and wood carvings for the past 15 to 20 years, but within the last two years, Mr. Bloomfield has been developing his talents as a sculptor in stone.

HUNK OF ROCK

He can chisel out a face in a hunk of rock in about 15 hours.

"I try to look for features in a piece of stone before I start carving," he said. "Then I begin carving and let the stone's natural characteristics dictate the main features or lines of whatever I'm working on."

Winners Boycott Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — CBS and ABC, which boycotted the show because of "illogical categories and haphazard voting," last night won 18 of the 27 major awards at the 16th annual Emmy television awards show.

Leading show was the Dick Van Dyke comedy series, which won Emmys for Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore as best series performers, and led in the comedy, directing and writing categories.

Other awards:

- ● Danny Kaye, variety performer and variety show.
- ● Shelley Winters and Jack Klugman, best individual performances.
- ● The Making of the President 1960, documentary.
- ● The Defenders, dramatic series.
- ● Rod Serling's It's Mental Work, best single drama.
- ● East Side / West Side, racial-relations drama.
- ● Huntley and Brinkley, best newscast for the third consecutive year.

IWA Leader Says Offer Faces Defeat

A settlement formula for the B.C. coast woodworkers' contract dispute will be beaten when the 26,000 members of the coast IWA vote in a secret ballot, an IWA leader claimed yesterday.

Weldon Jubenville, president of the 4,000-member Duncan-Nanaimo local, predicted 18,000 members will vote no.

The formula, drawn up by provincial conciliation officer E. P. Fisher, has been opposed officially or unofficially by Duncan-Nanaimo, the 7,000-member Vancouver local, the 4,000-member Port Alberni group and the 1,500-member Courtenay local.

It has won approval from only two big locals, the 6,000-man New Westminster unit and the 4,000-member upcoast loggers' local.

The stand of the 1,650-member Victoria local was not known. Mr. Jubenville said he had heard Victoria was undecided and unofficial reports said a membership meeting Sunday took no stand, and received no executive recommendation, for or against the formula.

Mr. Fisher proposed a 28-cent wage increase in a two-year contract, plus 15 cents for tradesmen.

Secret Balloting

Secret balloting will begin in all locals this week and must be completed by June 6. Deadline for signing the new contract is June 15.

Among smaller locals, the 1,400-member Haney unit was said to favor the Fisher proposal while a 300-member sublocal at Chemainus was against it.

Statements by Mr. Jubenville, IWA regional president Jack Moore and Vancouver local leader Syd Thompson during the weekend showed the formula has deepened a split which has plagued the union for years.

Mr. Thompson accused the regional officers of using the strike weapon as a thrust against the union membership by recommending acceptance.

Said Mr. Moore: "Nobody has threatened anybody with anything. The policy committee feels this is a good settlement."

Mr. Moore said the conciliation officer's terms would bring present base rates for woodworkers to $2.08 an hour with $2.64 an hour for tradesmen—up to wage standards in California, Washington and Oregon.

St. Ann's Academy Concert Success

By BERT BINNY

The St. Andrew's Cathedral Glee Club along with some talented guest artists combined to provide a very well received concert at St. Ann's Academy auditorium last night.

Among the guest artists were popular comedian Reg Stofer — this year joined by his youthful pianist daughter, Wendy—and actress Katherine Alexis.

The Glee Club provided three groups of songs and Richard Parkinson appeared both as violinist and accordionist. A colorful Polish dance was executed by 10 youngsters.

Vocal soloists were Peggy Walton Packard, Jeanette Bacchus, Don Mulcahy and Mario Forer. Glee Club director was Mrs. O. D. Young, with Wanda Gill as accompanist.

Be Positive, Grads Told

Belmont High School graduating class Friday was urged to understand the powerful drives within their personalities and to achieve control over these drives so they can be directed positively.

Guest speaker Dr. A. E. Carlson, of the Canadian Services College, Royal Roads told the graduating class drives were to belong, to be accepted, to be noticed, or the need for prestige. It is necessary to have clear guide lines of direction.

"On the other hand," said Dr. Carlson, "it is necessary not to allow these beliefs to become intemperate or fanatical."

Students split $825 worth of bursaries and scholarship during the handing out of awards.

They were won by Lois Rayner, $100 Royal Bride Chapter IODE; Marilyn Maxie, $50 IODE; Matti Valikoski, Eleanor Ruffle, Burt Meek and Peter Parker, $100 each High School Association scholarships; Jean Davies, $100 Victoria District PTA Council; Marilyn Maxie, $100 South Vancouver Island Lions Club; Linda Quiring, $50 Bonnie Barrett Colwood bursary fund; Matti Valikoski, $25 Green challenge trophy to High School Association scholarship winner.

Jaswant Raina, Mary Ellen Foley, Colin McTavish and Joy Gillham, each a Grade 11 class winner under High School Association sponsorship; Burt Meek (mathematics 91), Alfred Kuhnert, tied with Matti Valikoski (chemistry 91), Burt Meek, by reversion Marilyn Maxie (English 91), Eleanor Ruffle (French 92), Matti Valikoski (history 91), all under IODE sponsorship.

Valedictorian was Jean Davies. Sharon Jenson won the outstanding effort award of the school association and other book prizes were won in English by Lois Rayner, and physics by Alex Muir.

Certificates for excellence in subject fields were won by Jaswant Raina, biology, social studies and mathematics; Mary Ellen Foley, maths; Vincent Giles, social studies; Bernard Grunert, biology and maths; Marianne Grunert, English; John Holts, maths; Lynn Kaelimel, art; Patricia Neal, biology.

Man Denies Dog In Car Two Days

A Victoria man said yesterday he is annoyed with the SPCA and the B.C. Ferry Authority at Nanaimo for claiming he left his dog in a poorly-ventilated car for two days during the Victoria Day holiday weekend.

He said he only left the dog seven hours and provided food, water and ventilation for the pup, as he had done "dozens of times."

RCMP CALLED

Ferry officials at Nanaimo called RCMP May 17, claiming the young animal was locked in the parked car with only a slight open crack in the window. They said they could see no food or water for the animal.

The owner said there was water left in the dog's dish when he returned from a trip to Vancouver Sunday afternoon, and both air vents were open in the car, as well as the window.

'HE LOVES IT'

"He really loves it in there . . . that's his home," he said.

He said the ferry officers were incorrect in their claims and the SPCA, which had been asking about the case in Nanaimo, was interfering needlessly.

VANCOUVER (CP) — John A. Wallace of Yarrows shipyard was elected first vice-president of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting Monday.

What a relief! NO BACKACHE!

She used to be bothered by backaches and tired feeling. When she learned that irritation of the bladder and urinary tract can result in backache and tired feeling, she took Dodd's Kidney Pills. Smart girl. Dodd's Pills stimulate the kidneys to help relieve the condition causing the backache and tired feeling. Soon she felt better—rested better. If you are bothered by backache, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 85

Money when you need it.
No questions asked.

When you've owned a Manufacturers Life permanent insurance policy for a few years, you find it becomes more than insurance protection for your family. It also accumulates cash values which are as good as money in the bank – because they're guaranteed, in writing, right on your policy. (For example, a $10,000 whole life policy issued 16 years ago to a man at age 28 has already built up a cash value of $2,210.) The current cash value of your policy is, in fact, your money. You can use it later for retirement income. In the meantime, you can always use it as collateral for a loan.

You may borrow direct from Manufacturers Life. No questions asked – and no credit check. Low rate of interest (guaranteed at the time you take out your policy), and completely flexible repayment plans.

There are many other investment advantages in a Manufacturers Life policy. For instance, because the cost is only a few dollars a month, you're able to start investing when you're young and your income relatively low.

Garden Notes

Bamboos Impress

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One feature of our climate that never fails to impress visitors from other parts of Canada is the fact that we can grow bamboos here. One or two clumps can add a most exotic, tropical touch to any garden, and this is a very good time to buy and plant them. The varieties listed in any local nursery catalogue are hardy enough to grow in all but the bleakest districts, provided that they are given a little shelter from blustery winds.

A rich and rather heavy soil, difficult for most other subjects, suits bamboos to perfection, and they are particularly effective in a fairly dry spot but close to a pool or water garden where their graceful lines can be reflected in the water. The main complaint against bamboos is their pushy, invasive character, but two kinds which are easy to control are Arundinaria japonica "Metaki" and Bambusa multiplex "Chinese Goddess." Metaki grows to about nine feet in height, with dark green leaves, while Chinese Goddess has an open, arching habit with a most graceful silhouette, growing to six feet tall.

After planting, keep bamboos sheltered from the wind or spray with Wilt-Pruf liquid plastic until well established. The soil should be kept moist but not sodden through the first summer.

Another plant which always catches the eye of visitors is the Yucca, sometimes called Adam's Needle. This is actually an evergreen shrub with clusters of erect, sword-like leaves and a central spike of creamy bell-shaped flowers, and like the bamboo, it creates the impression of faraway places in tropical climes.

* * *

Yucca filamentosa and Y. flaccida both grow to about four feet in height. There is a commonly held belief that the Yucca blooms only once every 20 years, but this is most certainly not true. Once the plant reaches flowering age, usually in its second or third year after planting, it should bloom every summer.

These plants, too, can go in now, in ordinary well drained soil—these are desert plants and detest wet feet—and in full sun and out of cold winds. Don't be dismayed if they die back after planting; this is a fairly common occurrence, but they will sprout from near the base in late summer and should never look back thereafter.

The flowering quince, affectionately known as Japonica, will need some pruning after blossoming, particularly if it has been trained against a wall. Sideshoots growing toward the wall or directly away from the wall—this is called breastwood—should be taken out entirely, making your cuts flush with the parent branch. Other sideshoots should be shortened to three buds from the parent branch. Plants growing in the open need only have dead wood and poorly placed shoots removed.

* * *

Forsythia spectabilis is a rather tricky shrub to prune, as many of its blooms are carried on two-year-old wood. I think the best policy is to remove only the oldest wood which is crowding up the centre of the bush, and leave everything else. On Forsythia suspensa, however, all the shoots which have borne blossoms should be cut back hard almost to their base. This variety can be recognized easily by its obviously arching habit of growth.

STANTON DELAPLANE Learns His Lesson

Debt-Ridden Win Respect

The monthly bills are paid. I owe no man. Oh, a little to the banker. A trifle here, a smidgin there but nothing serious.

The sun shines on my humble scatter—oh, yes, I owe a few furniture payments. But the sun shineth on a solvent man.

I am solvent. Prepaid. A pillar of society. Walkabout money jingling in the pocket. Diogenes, throw away the lamp and look.

* * *

Does this hardy, sound dollar policy impress my government? Hell, no!

It throws the economy into a swivet. The government goes into a blooming panic.

Naturally they are talking about the BIG borrowers. Big banks who furnish the glue to big industry. But cats, when I don't borrow to buy pots and pans, there is no use of the Aluminum Company borrowing money to make them. Catch?

We are the borrowers who count. The $100, two co-signers, pay-on-the-first-of-the-month-or-we'll-have-your-heart-on-a-platter borrowers.

This borrowing keeps industry's wheels whirring. Keeps the system greased and relaxed. Keeps two chickens in the banker's pot and two yachts in every harbor.

Shine on, sun, on the man who is up to the ears in debt.

* * *

For a number of years I was never in debt. The magazines were full of warnings about debt.

Installment buying, they said, was ruining the nation. And, incidentally, wrecking the poor clods who were buying washing machines on borrowed money and borrowed time.

Came the day when I wanted to borrow a little ready. A worthy cause. I was building a nest. And the man who put up the nesting materials liked cash.

"The problem," said the banker polishing the solid gold nuggets on his solid gold watch chain, "is you HAVE no credit."

"How come, Banker?" I cried. "I have been very ready with the ready."

"Ah," said the banker, "that is your trouble. Since you have not been in debt, how do we know you will pay off if we let you get in debt? What you must do to get credit," said the banker flicking ashes off his dollar cigar, "is first to get in debt. Then you pay the debt. This proves you are honest. Therefore, we bankers get confidence in you."

* * *

Well, this confounded all the things I had read in the magazines, confound it.

Here I had been paying off and DESTROYING my credit.

If I had been up to the hocks in installment payments, that banker could not have done enough for me. He said so himself.

When I told him I paid cash for a washing machine, he actually shuddered.

"Why didn't you run a tab?" he asked.

"Because I had the bees-and-honey, Banker. I saved it."

"You saved it? Where?"

"Right in your bank, Banker."

"And you drew it OUT of your savings account."

"Right out of the jug, Banker."

Well, I was lucky to get out of the office! If there is anything a banker HATES, it is a man who will draw money out of his jug.

* * *

It took me a long time to establish credit—you know, $15 Friday for $10 you borrowed Monday. Hock shops with $2.50 for the watch. A little flutter on one of those 90-day things.

Until finally I was loaded with installment payments, house payments, loan payments. I had unlimited credit. And the banker gave me the padded chair when I came in the office.

I pay bills these days. But I leave a nest egg of debt with the banker. Oh, yes, I cancelled my subscription to that rat-fink magazine, too.

Lucy to the Rescue

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Lucille Ball to the rescue of the New York World's Fair! With the entertainment section of the fair doing such dreadful business there is a plan afoot to have Lucy film some of her TV shows this summer, direct from the fair grounds. It would be a great attraction for the tourists. And it would be free.

The Richard Boones' marriage is now sailing in happy waters. There was a bit of a rift a while ago, but after spending a vacation on the yacht of John Ford off Honolulu, Richard fell in love with his wife all over again, as well as with the locale, and the Boones are now living in Hawaii. Richard will commute to Hollywood for picture jobs.

It will be ages before Carol Linley can return to Hollywood to conclude her divorce proceedings with Mike Selsman. After her Pleasure Seekers in Madrid, the pretty blonde star hops to Rome for The Agony and the Ecstacy. Then she vacations in Switzerland and flies to Los Angeles via Hong Kong and that's just about as via as you can get.

* * *

Lee Marvin hasn't had a good screen romance for a long time. But he makes up for it in A Ship of Fools. He woos both Vivien Leigh and Elizabeth Ashley. And that's just about as far as you can go in girls.

Jim Arness has kissed and made up with his Gunsmoke show. When Jim did not appear on the set for a couple of weeks, everyone assumed that he was taking a rest and had been written out of two segments. This sometimes happens when the star wants a breather. It was only when Jim returned that cast and crew learned he had taken a powder because of something he didn't like. He won't discuss the "beef." But he won. I'm glad. This is one series that will go on and on, if the public has anything to say.

There was a rough cut preview of Hayley Mills' new picture for Walt Disney, The Moonspinners. It's cloak and dagger stuff, jewel thieves and old ruins. Pola Negri makes her movie return in this one, and it turns out that the voice of this silent screen siren is very very low. She also rolls her eyes and quivers her nostrils as she was taught to do in the early 20s. Be interesting to see what the reviewers think.

Ann Sothern and her daughter Tish have taken apartments next door to each other in the same apartment house in Hollywood. This is a fine way—if you can afford it, to solve mother-daughter relationships. This way Tish feels on her own, but Mom is close by, if needed.

* * *

Carol Burnett is hoping her Fade Out-Fade In play recovers from its out-of-town blues. She does not want to return to Hollywood for awhile because she did not care for her first film comedy experience. "I don't see how people can be funny in movies when they have to sit around being bored for hours waiting for their scenes. And when they are finally ready they have to turn on the humor like a tape." This is how Carol feels about making a film comedy. It sounds impossible. But it has been done.

John Gavin's Destry series has ridden off into the sunset after one season. After all that hard work. The Gavins are partial to society parties in Los Angeles. But it is not vice versa. They are always late, and one hostess recently had to hold up her dinner for two hours waiting for the actor and his wife to show. The guests were famished and furious. Now take movie parties: they are always hours and hours late serving the food. In my early days when I went to them all I learned a tip from Groucho Marx: eat first, go to the party later.

* * *

Good news from the Marlon Brando Bedtime Story comedy front. The audience roared at the preview. But if Marlon is going to strip to his undies again as he did in this, he must lose some weight.

How do you shave when the bathroom is occupied?

☐ Go to the gas station on the corner.

☐ Get a cordless Lektronic II and shave wherever you want.

The Lektronic II is self-powered. It works upstairs, downstairs, in any room in the house. Even outdoors.

So forget about sinks, cords and outlets. With the Lektronic II you get a powerful shave anywhere.

If you forget to recharge, just plug in the cord and shave. There's no waiting. No half-shaved face.

Like all Remingtons, the Lektronic II has adjustable roller combs for comfort. And a more powerful motor. And surgical steel cutters.

But the big feature is cordless convenience. Great for around the house, up at the cottage, the travelling man.

French Kidnapping

Dangerous But Charming Suspects Held

PARIS (AP)—Three men are being held in the kidnapping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of the builder of France's nuclear-carrying Mirage IV bomber fleet, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," said the 63-year-old socially-prominent Parisian after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnappers' hideout Sunday.

"But they were dangerous men. I wasn't afraid but I was ready for anything."

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnappers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

MIXED UP

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, still were being questioned yesterday.

A search continued for a fourth man, who outraced police cars and disappeared in Paris. His name was thought to be Dominique. Investigators said he was a cool, experienced criminal.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris, shouted "is anyone here?" outside farmhouse.

They broke in when a woman's voice replied "yes, don't leave." A gunman meekly handed over his pistol and said some friends offered him a little money to guard a farmhouse. He was Mathieu Costa, 26, a bartender, of the French island of Corsica.

SECOND MAN

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm. His brother, Gaston Darmon, 33, who police said once operated an Algiers brothel, was caught by motorcycle policemen who saw him running across a field.

Goldwater A-Blast Headlined

SAIGON (CP) — Several Saigon newspapers gave banner headlines yesterday to the statement of Senator Barry Goldwater advocating the use of atomic bombs in the South Vietnamese war.

The newspapers did not comment in yesterday's editions but observers believed the reaction of South Vietnamese would be extremely hostile.

Goldwater Sunday said low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Howard Green, former federal minister for external affairs, warned Monday that any use of low-yield atomic bombs to clear underbrush and reveal Communist supply lines in South Viet Nam could precipitate a third world war which would mean the end of civilization.

Flag Issue Covers Sins Claims Tory

OTTAWA (CP) — Former Conservative Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton Monday moved a vote of non-confidence in the government's policies on eastern agriculture. He charged that the issue of a new Canadian flag is being used to cover up "a whole series of sins of omission" including the agriculture question.

Mr. Hamilton's motion regretted "the continuing failure of the government to take effective action with regard to the pressing agriculture problems of Eastern Canada."

VOTE TONIGHT

The opposition motion sets the theme for a two-day debate in the Commons, climaxed with a vote of confidence in the government tonight on agricultural policies. It will be the 10th test of confidence in the minority Liberal government since the second session of the 26th Parliament began Feb. 18.

Earlier External Affairs Minister Martin told the Commons Canada has not been approached by UN Secretary-General U Thant to extend the three-month commitment of Canadian troops to Cyprus.

"There has been no formal request as yet," Mr. Martin said.

No Service No Licence

OTTAWA (CP) — The Air Transport Board reports it has cancelled the licence of Copter Cabs, which provided a helicopter service in the Vancouver area.

The cancellation was ordered after Copter Cabs, a subsidiary of Okanagan Helicopters, stopped providing the service.

Body Linked with Murder

TORONTO (CP) — Police said Monday night a body they pulled from Toronto Bay earlier in the day was probably that of the man wanted for capital murder in the strangling of Elsie Payne, 44.

A telephone tip from a caller who said he saw a man plunge into the water brought harbor police to the scene in 10 minutes.

The body was recovered shortly after their arrival but attempts to revive the man by artificial respiration failed.

Norman James MacDonald, 51, of Toronto was being sought on a warrant charging that he strangled Miss Payne, a bank teller, found dead in her apartment Sunday night.

She had been strangled with a nylon stocking and her skull was fractured, apparently by a blow from a wrench found under her bed. An autopsy showed death was due to strangulation.

Industrials Stage A Robust Display

While the index showed a gain of only .36 to 156.11 some impressive gains were recorded by quality issues.

CPR was an outstanding example. It gained 2⅝ to 48⅝ and sold at a new high of $49 at one point. Argus Corp. tacked on 1⅝ to 17¾.

ALGOMA CLIMBS

Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway climbed 4¼ to 36¼ while the warrants were up 3⅛ to 16. Du Pont advanced 1⅝ to 47¾, B.C. Telephone $1 to 62½ and Moore Corp. $1 to 55.

Speculative mining issues also received some attention. Marchant jumped 25 cents to $1.15. Genex countered the trend with a loss of four cents at 23 cents.

Senior metals were lower but showing well were secondary issues such as Lake Dufault which gained ⅝ to 10¼ and Highland Bell 80 cents to $6.05.

GOLD DROP NOTED

The drop of 1.93 to 136.05 in the gold index was misleading. Dome was the major reason for the decline with a loss of $1 to 28¾. But other than that, few changes were recorded by index stocks.

Western oils were firm. Home B climbed ¼ to 20 while Alminex added 25 cents to $4.20.

On index, base metals were down .39 to 65.30, western oils were up .21 to 98.04 and the exchange index was up .26 to 145.90. Volume for the day was 4,921,000 shares compared with 4,703,000 shares traded Friday.

Prices Higher

MONTREAL (CP) — Substantially higher prices prevailed on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges Monday. The composite index climbed 0.6 to 147.1 and advances outnumbered declines 104 to 83.

Trading was extremely active among industrials with a turnover of 289,200 shares. Mines and oils were light on 674,200 shares.

PAPERS UP

Papers were up 0.5 to 136.9 with Great Lakes ahead ⅛ to 26½ and B.C. Forest down ⅜ to 29⅛. Industrials rose 0.4 to 152.3 as Building Products advanced 1⅛ to 36¾ and Moore Corp. one point to 55.

Canada and Dominion Sugar was up ¾ to 25¾ among food and beverage issues. Banks edged up 0.1 to 127.4 with Banque Provinciale up ⅜ to 55½.

Senior base metals were mainly lower as International Nickel dropped ⅛ to 85½. Senior oils were steady for the most part but BA Oil edged up ⅛ to 32⅞.

In speculative mines on the Canadian exchange Mount Pleasant climbed four cents to $1.29. Fano dropped 3½ cents to 21½ cents and Transterre and White Star Copper one cent each to 90 cents and 69 cents.

Chrysler Strong

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in Chrysler was the highlight of a generally dull and quiet stock market Monday. The list was down slightly at the end after an irregular session.

Chrysler advanced 1⅝ to 49⅛ on 141,300 shares, making it the most active stock. The day's volume dipped to 4,000,000 shares from 4,650,000 Friday. Not since Jan. 31 has trading sunk to such a low total on the big board.

Use of Borrowed Keys Extended Beyond Law

An Esquimalt youth who borrowed a friend's car keys to remove his personal belongings fro mthe vehicle and then took the car to Nanaimo will be sentenced Saturday for taking an auto without the owner's consent.

Robert R. Simbalist, 19, of HMCS Antigonish, pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge as well as charges of driving without a licence and having no insurance.

Saturday afternoon he took the vehicle from an Esquimalt parking lot and kept it until he reached Nanaimo, where he was involved in an accident.

He also faces charges at Nanaimo.

Magistrate Ostler remanded the youth to Saturday for a pre-sentence report and interview with the sailor's commanding officer.

A young Vancouver woman with what Magistrate Ostler called an "impulsive behavior pattern," was sentenced to one day in jail yesterday on a charge of theft of goods valued at under $50.

June Bailey was charged with shoplifting clothing and other goods from a city department store last month.

Magistrate Ostler said he could not order psychiatric aid for the woman, but urged her to seek help herself.

Mrs. Bailey, a UBC student, said she was having marital difficulties.

She has been kept in city police custody since her arrest. In addition to the one-day sentence she was placed on probation for a six-month period.

Another Vancouver woman paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty yesterday to careless driving in Oak Bay Sunday night.

Police statements read in court indicated a pursuing patrol vehicle had to attain 90 miles an hour to overtake the woman's car on Foul Bay Road.

She told police she was in a hurry at the time.

In what must have been one of life's darker moments Saturday night, Albert Ward, 1060 Southgate, drove into the rear of a ar parked on Government Street.

He pleaded guilty in city court yesterday, after telling police he had consumed "a few beers."

Bureau Head Transferred

The charter president of the Vancouver Island Better Business Bureau, E. M. Sinclair, has been transferred by his firm, McLennan, McFeely and Prior, to Prince George.

For the balance of Mr. Sinclair's term as bureau president his duties will be taken over by C. T. Overman, vice-president of the bureau.

Big Bingo Deadline Wednesday

Deadline for buying pre-sale tickets for the Victoria Kinsmen's giant bonanza Bingo session to be held at the Memorial Arena at 7:45 p.m., June 2, is midnight on Wednesday.

Tickets for the session, at which a mystery guest will be introduced, can be obtained from the main floors of the Hudson's Bay Company and Eaton's Stores.

Bilking Season

Get Contract, Bureau Warns

A telephone order has resulted in a Victoria firm being bilked of several hundred dollars worth of electrical equipment, reports the Vancouver Island Better Business Bureau.

The bureau's latest bulletin reports that the firm received a call from a person who said he was from a local government department.

NOT ORDERED

The merchandise was picked up at another branch of the firm in another city, and the government department was billed. The department had not ordered the merchandise.

The bureau also reports the recent case of a man in Victoria who passed two cheques at Victoria florists after ordering flowers to be delivered to his mother.

He ordered $55 worth of flowers at one shop, paying in advance, and cashed a cheque for $65. At a second shop he ordered $60 worth of flowers and cashed a cheque for $65.

BOTH FALSE

The cheques, and the address the man left for delivery, turned out to be phony. And the mysterious man is $15 to the good.

The bureau also warns householders to be on the lookout for the usual springtime "influx of perennial types with bargains in almost every field of business"—especially home repairs.

"Many of the calls received from the bureau are from home owners who paid in advance for work to be done and are having difficulty in getting the job completed or, in some cases, getting the job started.

"If you need home repairs, be sure to get estimates from local, established contractors, who will be here to back up the guarantee when needed.

"Have a firm contract, do not pay in advance and do not sign a completion form till you are satisfied that the terms of the contract have been carried out completely.

"A case under investigation concerns a 73-year-old lady who signed a contract for remodelling, paid $150 in advance, does not have a copy of the contract and does not know who the sales person was.

QUICK HAUL

"And, according to a close relative, the property does not need renovating.

"Another one-man operation, who specializes in chimney repairs, garnered more than $5,000 in small contracts in Victoria in a three-month period. This was in spite of the number of jobs he didn't get because the prospects called the bureau before giving him work . . . This particular firm has left this area."

Malahat Crash

Juvenile in Stolen Car Soars Through the Air

A juvenile in a stolen car had the ride of his life early Saturday — soaring 125 feet through the air and scattering parts of the vehicle over 100 yards of the Malahat area. He was not seriously injured.

RCMP say the boy, whose driver's licence was under suspension, stole the car from Saanich and was northbound over the Malahat about 4:45 a.m.

He remained airborne for 125 feet—striking a treetop during the flight and bouncing 50 feet from it before finally coming to rest.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The youth was taken to hospital, where police say he was soon to be released.

"A lucky kid," said one policeman.

Geoffrion Quits Canadiens Named Farm Club Coach

QUEBEC (CP) — Bernard Geoffrion, a hard-shooting right winger for 13 seasons with Montreal Canadiens, brought his National Hockey League career to an abrupt end Monday by signing a one-year contract to coach Quebec Aces of the American League.

Geoffrion, known as "Boom Boom" because of his powerful shot, scored 371 goals in regular-season play during his NHL career — third only to Gordie Howe of Detroit and Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal. Howe has 566, Richard had 544.

During the season just ended the 33-year-old Geoffrion scored 21 goals although he missed 15 games because of injuries. They included the winning goal in a 2-1 game against New York Rangers on the last night of the schedule, when Canadiens eased into first place by one point over Chicago Black Hawks.

Often hobbled by injuries, nearly killed in the 1957-58 season, Geoffrion had a career of peaks and valleys.

He hit the top in 1960-61, scoring 50 goals to equal a one-season record set 16 years earlier by Richard, winning his second scoring title with 95 points, and capturing the Hart Trophy for the league's most valuable player.

WAS TOP ROOKIE

His rookie season, 1951-52 was one of his most brilliant. He scored 30 goals and won the Calder Trophy.

As coach of Quebec Geoffrion succeeds Floyd (Busher) Curry, another former Canadiens player who plans to devote his time to an oil business in Montreal. Geoffrion told a press conference he will definitely not play again and has placed himself on the NHL's voluntary retired list.

Sam Pollock, new general manager of Canadiens who also attended the press conference, said Geoffrion's old club will do everything possible to help him in his new job. Canadiens have a working agreement with Aces.

Geoffrion said he suffered "so many injuries" during his NHL career that he welcomes the chance to take a coaching job. He has broken at various times his legs, ankles, arms and jaw. During a practice session in January, 1958, he suffered a bowel rupture and was given the last rites in hospital.

He has managed to get through only one full 70-game season—1954-55, when he won his first scoring title.

A native of Montreal who moved into the NHL from Junior A hockey, he retires from the NHL with a lifetime record of 759 points on 371 goals and 388 assists. Only Howe and Montreal's Jean Beliveau among active players have better totals.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

One of the most encouraging features of the opening round of the Willie Park Driver competition was the success of the three junior players taking part.

Gary Smith, Ricky Kent and Noel Pumfrey all won their first games, and Gary, at least, did it in the grand manner by beating Ron MacLeod the Jasper pro who was making his one and only appearance for the Victoria Club team this year.

As Smith earlier in the week had won the mid-Island junior tournament, it appears he is back to his best, and that he will be a contender for honors in all this season's events.

Kent, who ran into some "hook" trouble after his fine qualifying round in the Island open, is now back on the rails and hitting his lightweight, whipping woods a long distance.

Pumfrey, who has not had too much time for golf during the winter, is another of what may become a famous trio of Victoria youngsters.

Uplands, with its 6-3 start against Victoria, looks like the team to beat. They're solid from Gary Smith at No. 1 to Bob Hunt at No. 6. The strength in the tail might quite easily wag the Uplands "dog" into top place for the second year in succession. Any team that can place Eric Hibberson and Hunt in its fifth and sixth places is strong indeed.

Eric Wright, who has never been defeated in this competition since he joined the Uplands team last year, is now serving as an assistant to John Wren at Uplands, and has taken up his new duties in the pro shop.

* * *

The way to win in foursome golf is to find a bold putter like Bill McColl, and then invite him to be your partner.

The writer found it that way on Sunday at Uplands when he merely attempted to keep the ball down the middle and allow McColl to supply the fireworks.

Finishing in third place were Stuart Keate and Jack Melville of the Victoria Club, and their success was particularly welcome as it came at a time when the Victoria and District Golf Committee sought to show its appreciation to Stu Keate for the strong and willing assistance he has given to Victoria golf during his 14 years here as vice-president of Victoria Press Ltd.

The district association presented Mr. Keate with a silver rosebowl, a replica of the Centennial Foursome rosebowl, suitably inscribed as a memento of his services to golf.

In accepting the rosebowl, Mr. Keate said he hoped that in his new position in Vancouver he would continue to work for golf, not only for Vancouver but also, as before, for Victoria.

* * *

Seattle sent a strong 34-man team for its annual match with the Victoria Club Saturday, but the home players found the wind in their favor and they will take a handy 21-point lead with them for the return match in June at Seattle.

* * *

Bill Wakeham, who tried his hand at life insurance earlier this year, has changed his job. He is now an automobile salesman.

* * *

Over 130 players have entered for the John Merriman Memorial Open to be played at Cedar Hill in memory of the former Gorge Vale golfer. The 18-hole contest will be played Sunday.

* * *

Early views of local golfers on the changes in the Rules of Golf which came into effect May 1, are mixed.

The flagstick rule is claimed to be nothing short of a nuisance to players who do not have caddies or who are playing in singles.

The single stroke penalty for an unplayable lie appears to be appreciated by those who get relief from it, although the difference in penalty comparing with a lost ball or a ball out of bounds is creating some harsh feelings.

No doubt, however, we shall get used to it, although there seems little doubt that the flagstick change is going to cause a further slowing in the tempo of play—if that is possible.

'But It Can't Happen to Me'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't ask any of them why they do it in car racing, particularly with the big 500-mile race coming up Saturday at the old brickyard in Indianapolis.

Racing people think you're nuts if you even bother to pop the question. It's enough for them, the heady wine of speed when they jam it through the floorboards.

It can't, they'll tell you, happen to them.

Like Glenn (Fireball) Roberts. A congenial, lanky guy who has been lead-footing it around the NASCAR tracks for years. A popular guy, well-liked by everyone. He could really fly it, although his nickname was because at one time he was a fast ball pitcher in college.

Yet, like so many, he finally wrapped it up in a ball of flame in the Charlotte 600.

Knock boxing as a killer and you have to be right. Put the rap on the duel at dawn and I'll still have to hold that racing has killed more than any of them.

So many nice guys: chubby cheeked, ever-smiling Jimmy Reece; bushy-browed Jack McGrath; grinning Joe Weatherly; Ralph Hepburn, Chet Miller, Manny Ayulo, and on and on.

All of them guys who felt deep down inside that "it can't happen to me."

None was ever more cocky than Bill Vukovich, the mad Russian from the west coast. He won at Indy two years in a row and made no secret of the fact that he intended to make it three straight or Katy bar the door.

It was 1955 and Vuky, confident of victory, was walking around the pits showing off a letter from his daughter.

"Dear daddy: I need a new dress so put your foot through it."

Vuky did. He was in an early battle for the lead with McGrath and the mad Russian quickly showed even the daredevil McGrath that he was boss at the brickyard. They went into the turn leading into the backstretch and Vuky cut off McGrath with such dangerous abandon that McGrath backed completely off. When they came around again, McGrath was well back and out of Vuky's front-running way.

But Vuky put his foot "through it" just a little too much. Fleeing into the backstretch he saw a pileup, lost his tortured mount of metal and lost life itself.

When the race ended, Bob Sweikert wheeled into victory lane and, when his wife ran up to him and threw her arms around him with tears streaming down her face, asked her with vast surprise:

"What's the matter, honey? You didn't think it could happen to me, did you?"

Not that day. But it did a few weeks later.

There has to be, in all this mad merry-go-round, a fatal certainty to the law of averages. The speeds go up and up, but the path they travel remains the same and eventually the ratio between survival and disaster arrives at the razor's edge to nowhere.

As in the case of Glenn Roberts, for whom the nickname of "Fireball" became a mockery.

'Fireball' Roberts In Critical Shape

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Veteran driver Glenn "Fireball" Roberts, burns covering 80 per cent of his body, was in "very critical" condition here last night, victim of a flaming three-car crash in Sunday's $112,000 World 600 stock car race.

Crash occurred on the seventh lap, when a Ford driven by Junior Johnson spun on the backstretch into the path of Fords driven by Roberts and Ned Jarrett. Both slammed into Johnson's car, and their fuel tanks exploded.

"Help me, Ned," he cried. "I'm on fire!"

Barber Can't Get Started But Orioles Still in Fight

Baltimore Orioles are making a run of it for the American League pennant, but their biggest stumbling block is the man they counted on most.

Steve Barber, a 20-game winner last season, tried again for his first victory last night and got chased in the fourth inning as Orioles lost, 5-3, to Detroit Tigers.

Los Angeles	18	21	.462	5½
Chicago	14	20	.412	7
New York	11	28	.282	12½

It was a defeat that knocked them out of a tie for first place, as Chicago White Sox moved in front with a 7-4 victory over Kansas City Athletics.

Orioles had closed in on the Sox Sunday, sweeping a doubleheader, 2-1 and 7-6, from Minnesota while the Sox were splitting with Washington Senators, winning 6-4 and losing 3-0.

ANGELS CLUBBED

Twins got back on the track last night, clubbing Los Angeles Angels for 16 hits, including four singles by Jimmie Hall, for an 8-1 victory.

Boston Red Sox, still well back but coming strong, beat the Senators, 6-3, last night for their fourth straight win and seventh in their last eight starts.

Dick Stuart led them to 6-2 and 3-1 victories over Kansas City Sunday, hitting a grand-slam homer in the first game and a two-run homer in the second.

KOUFAX RELIEVES

Philadelphia Phillies were beaten, 3-0, by Los Angeles Dodgers (so desperate these days they used Sandy Koufax in relief), but retained the league lead as San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals both lost twice.

Pittsburgh Pirates handled the Giants, 3-0 on Bob Veale's two-hitter and 5-3 behind rookie Tom Butters. Milwaukee Braves with Joe Torre going 7-for-10 at the plate to raise his average to .370, beat the Cards, 7-4 and 10-0.

Cincinnati also swept a doubleheader, 6-5 and 12-4, from Chicago Cubs.

Rugged Reception

Foul Bay Tugmen made their first start of the season in the senior "B" lacrosse league last night, and got a rough welcome.

Jokers, getting three goals each from Pat Mulcahy and Bob Harris, beat the Tugmen, 12-5, at Memorial Arena. Dave Wakelyn and Jim Cunningham scored twice, and Norm Parker and Norm Hirons got the other goals.

VANCOUVER — A spectacular car crash which sent one driver to hospital marred western Canada's top sports car race at the Westwood circuit here Sunday before 9,000 people.

Eppie Wietzes of Toronto suffered a double fracture of one leg when his light Cooper Ford was caught and lifted by a gust of wind while moving down the main straight-away at 150 miles an hour. The car crashed and was heavily damaged.

Dave Ridenour, a San Francisco car salesman, won the Player's race easily in his Comet Genii. Ridenour took an early lead and never surrendered it as he set a one-lap record on the 1.8-mile course with a speed of 87.5 m.p.h.

The most interesting contest in the 108-mile race was for second place. Chuck Parsons of Monterey, Calif., piloting a Lotus 23B, finally edged out Toronto's Ludwig Heimrath who was driving a Cooper Ford.

The Chapman Report

Three weeks ago, Skip Chapman was holding down a bench in New Westminster, waiting for the chance that never came.

Today he has the best goal-tending record in the Inter-City Lacrosse League, and Victoria Shamrocks are sporting the bright new look of contenders.

In three seasons as reserve goalie for New Westminster, Chapman got into exactly six games. Disgusted, he quit to join Shamrocks and in four games he has been as close to unbeatable as a goalie has any right to get.

Chapman has faced 140 shots as a Shamrock. Playing despite an injured hand, he has blocked 118 of them for a league-leading percentage of .843, and the Rocks have three wins and a tie.

RUNNERS-UP

To give you an idea of just how good that record is, Chapman's closest competition at the moment is New Westminster's Les Norman at .755 and Norm Nestman of Vancouver, the goalie Shamrocks tried so hard to get, is third at .754

Shamrocks play in Vancouver tonight and the clubs come back to Victoria Wednesday at 8:30.

TOUGHEST TEST

It's the toughest test to date for Chapman and the Rocks, because Vancouver has the best set of sharpshooters in the league to go with a strong defence.

Sid Warick of Vancouver is going for the league scoring lead, trailing New Westminster's Jack Bionda by three points, 32-29.

Mike Souchak Wins Memphis Golf Test

MEMPHIS — Mike Souchak sank a four-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole Sunday to win the $50,000 Memphis Open golf tournament by one stroke over Billy Casper and Tommy Jacobs.

Souchak's putt gave him a 69 on the round and a 72-hole total of 270—the lowest score on the Professional Golfers' Association tour this year. Casper shot a last-round 70, while Jacobs stormed in with a 66.

Ike's Slice Displayed For Sake of Charity

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — One of the best guarded secrets of the post-war years—how good or bad is Ike's slice?—will be revealed today for the sake of charity.

Former president Dwight Eisenhower, the most avid of America's golfing presidents, will team with Arnold Palmer, the Masters champion, in an 18-hole benefit for the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania.

Their opponents in a best-ball match over the historic Merion Golf Club course will be Jimmy Demaret, dapper, 53-year-old grandfather who has won three Masters, and Ray Bolger, the twinkle-toed star of Hollywood and Broadway.

The match will be played before a front row gallery paying $100 each for patron tickets, which includes a pre-match clinic and a luncheon, and $50 for a spot in the crowd.

When he needed relaxation from the pressure of his duties, Eisenhower found it by going to the Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Ga., scene of the Masters, or to Newport for a few rounds of golf. He built a pitching and putting green on the White House lawn.

Yet the public and press was never allowed to know how well he played or his temperament when he missed a short putt. However, word seeped out that Ike, an intense player who frequently emitted a muffled "darn," had considerable ability but played too fast.

Young, McColl Duo Capture Foursomes

Harry Young and Bill McColl of the Victoria Golf Club won the seventh annual Centennial Foursomes tournament at Uplands Sunday.

Young and McColl, who placed third in last year's event, led the 66 twosomes with a score of 75-9½—65½.

Gorge Vale's Lex Sutcliffe and Wilbur DeSilva finished in second spot with 74-7—67. That was a half stroke better than Stuart Keate and Jack Melville of the Victoria Golf Club.

Cliff Horwood and Alex McCabe, also of the Victoria Club, won a special "righty-lefty" trophy presented for the first time by the Vancouver Island Lefthanders' Golf Association. McCabe and Horwood had a net 70 which put them in fifth place in the overall standings.

Young-McColl (V) 75-9½—65½.
Sutcliffe-DeSilva (GV) 74-7—67.
Keate-Melville (V) 78-10½—67½.
Kerr-W. Allen (RC) 78-9½—68½.
Horwood-McCabe (V) 77-7—70.
Aune-A. Holmes (RC) 80-9½—70½.
D. Ritchie-Thirlwell (U) 81-10½—70½.
C. Maxie-Kent (RC) 80-9—71.

Longacres Threatened By Strike

SEATTLE (AP) — Longacres race track is scheduled to open a 64-day racing season Friday—if the betting window ticket salesmen don't upset the schedule.

The track's pari-mutuel clerks voted two weeks ago in favor of a strike if negotiations for a wage boost fail. They were reported voting Monday night on what was termed the track's "final offer." There are 176 clerks.

Some 600 horses are in training at Longacres, which has been operating with a skeleton crew pending settlement of the dispute.

Friday's 10-race card, programmed to start at 4:15 p.m., is featured by the $5,000-added William E. Boeing stakes.

Vicettes Play Tonight

Calling Miss Archibald

VANCOUVER — Victoria Vicettes have played and won four senior women's softball games so far this season. And the winning pitcher in all four games has been Gail Archibald.

Vicettes and Miss Archibald defeated previously-unbeaten Collingwoods here Sunday 9-2 and 1-0. Miss Archibald allowed only four hits in the two games.

Last weekend she pitched two wins against Port Angeles.

Firefighters Win Title

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Firefighters, down 1-0 at half-time, came back to defeat Columbus 2-1 in the Pacific Coast Soccer League playoff final before about 3,000 fans at Callister Park here Sunday.

Victoria Cricketers Keep Junior Cup

A last inning stand by Vancouver fell short Sunday, and Victoria's under-18 cricketers retained the Cameron Cup, emblematic of the juvenile inter-city cricket championship, by 15 runs at Windsor Park.

Victoria, batting first, declared after scoring 84 runs for six wickets. Vancouver was unable to cope effectively with the Victoria bowling until Wilson and Field combined for a 35-run stand before Wilson was retired for the final out.

Eric Kjekstad with 33 runs and Bob Gage with 29 led the Victoria batsmen. Ted Hardy was the stand-out Victoria bowler as he took six wickets for 15 overs.

In regular league games Sunday, Incogs defeated Albions by seven wickets and Oak Bay beat Five C's by a like score.

Golfers Bow To Football

PORTLAND (AP) — Portland and Seattle Open Golf directors plan to switch the dates of their tournaments in September.

The Portland Open now will be held Sept. 17-20, with a pro-amateur round Sept. 16. The Seattle Open will be held Sept. 24-27, with a pro-am Sept 23.

Both tournaments carry prize money of $40,000.

National Sport War Brewing

Lacrosse Chiefs Return Fire

TORONTO (CP)—A proposal by Jack Roxburgh, Liberal member of Parliament for Norfolk, that hockey be designated as Canada's national game was criticized Sunday by the presidents of the Canadian and Ontario Lacrosse Associations.

In a joint statement, national president Ed Blair and Ontario president James Naish said the national game should be lacrosse, not hockey, which is a sport imported from the British Isles.

They were criticizing a statement made in an Ottawa interview this month by Roxburgh that he plans to introduce a bill in Parliament to declare hockey as Canada's national sport.

Roxburgh, former president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said there is no documentary support for the assertion that lacrosse is the national game.

The lacrosse officials claim that at the time of Confederation there was no other sport but lacrosse played in Canada.

They said a lacrosse association was operated by various Indian tribes as early as 1763.

B.C. to Fight

Lacrosse fans in British Columbia will be petitioned to protest against a move to have hockey declared Canada's national game.

Petitions protesting the move will be circulated in arenas during Inter-City Lacrosse League games, possibly this week. They will be forwarded to Prime Minister Pearson in Ottawa, and fans will also be asked to write their own MPs asking that any move to introduce such a bill in Parliament be blocked.

"They were playing lacrosse in Canada long before hockey got here," said Harry McKnight, vice-president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association and member of the Inter-City League executive.

"The game goes all the way back to the Indians who started it," he added. "We've taken a lot of things from the Indians but they aren't going to lose this. We're going to fight, and if we have to introduce a bill of our own, then we'll do that too."

King Fisherman

Lead for Springs Changed By Five Ounces

The classified advertising manager of Victoria Press Ltd. has taken over the spring salmon lead of the King Fisherman Contest with a 27:14-pounder caught Friday in Oak Bay waters.

If he were to keep the lead Al Frankson would qualify for a gold Prince Button and the King Fisherman trophy, but not for the merchandise prize donated by W. R. Menzies Ltd. for the biggest salmon. VPL employees are not eligible for merchandise prizes and if they happen to win a trophy, a second trophy is given to the Vancouver Islander with the next heaviest fish.

LANDED FISH

Mr. Frankson landed his fish off Discovery Light on Strip-Teaser, 12 ounces of weight and 33 feet on nylon line.

He takes the lead from Ron Williams who held it with a 27:9-pounder from Brentwood.

Seattle Ferry Run Will Start Friday

When the Princess Marguerite sails for Seattle Friday morning on her first run of the season she'll be flying a red and white checkered house flag — and a Canadian flag.

The official opening of the Seattle-Victoria summer run is Saturday morning when U.S. fire boats will give the Marguerite a big send-off from the American port.

During her winter drydock spell the Marguerite has had her hull scraped and re-painted.

Departure times from Seattle will be 8:30 a.m. arriving Victoria at 12:20 p.m. and Victoria departure will be 5:30 p.m. arriving Seattle 9:30 p.m.

Former MLA Lauds Castro

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, former New Democratic Party member of the B.C. legislature, returned from Cuba Sunday with nothing but praise for the Castro regime.

She spent three weeks on the island as guest of the Cuban government.

"Despite the fact Fidel Castro is a dictator," she told an interviewer, "I think he has done a wonderful job in Cuba.

"It's a great pity they can't be left alone. With the aid the Cuban people are getting from Russia, China and Czechoslovakia, they will eventually turn their island into a paradise . . ."

She said she found Cuban workers well-fed and prosperous. There was little evidence of the "so-called suppressed workers in a military state."

Fall Injures Victoria Child

VANCOUVER (CP) — A three-year-old Victoria girl taken to Stanley Park by her grandparents Sunday finished up in hospital with six stitches in her face.

Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Colbourne of Vancouver, were carrying her towards a phone to call for help when police spotted them and radioed for an ambulance.

Locks Forgotten

Robbed Visitors Often at Fault

It's mainly the tourists themselves who are at fault in break-ins such as have taken place at several Victoria motels recently, says a Victoria motel operators' official.

Ed Lum, president of the B.C. Motels and Resorts Association, lower Island unit, said last night that the operators have not yet had a meeting to discuss the problem.

But, he said, informal talks he has had with some operators affected indicate that the break-ins are caused largely by guests who do not lock their suites when they leave them temporarily or when they retire.

He said checks by operators who have had break-ins at their units have disclosed insecure suites. He said operators plan to warn their guests to make sure their suites are locked.

B.C. Mother Sentenced

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A woman from 150-mile house was given a two-year suspended sentence after she pleaded guilty to assault causing bodily harm, a charge which was laid after her baby died.

Mary Anne Phillips was charged in October when she was living near Lac la Hache. Court was told the baby, slapped three times, died from a gross fracture of the skull.

Flag Stamp 'Moving Normally'

The new Canadian five-cent stamp which may contain the basic design for a government-proposed flag is "moving normally" from Victoria post office outlets.

The stamp, which depicts three red maple leaves on a white field, went on sale May 14. Postal officials were unable to estimate exactly how many of the stamps have been sold here to the public, but say the figure is "many, many thousands."

A spokesman said there has been some comment on the design from purchasers, "but nothing really serious."

Pesticide Warning

B.C. Checking Milk

Agriculture Minister Frank Richter said Monday his department is investigating the extent to which pesticides are contaminating milk from B.C.'s lower mainland.

He was commenting on a statement by Dr. A. B. Swackhammer of the federal food and drug directorate who said pesticide counts in the milk have reached "significant levels."

Dr. Swackhammer said that if the count continues at its present level the government may have to start seizing milk products.

Said Mr. Richter: "I'm a little surprised at the food and drug people making such firm statements."

He said there had been some evidence of pesticides reaching the milk through cattle feed. But he had not been advised that the contamination had reached a dangerous level.

AT UNIVERSITY

The minister discussed the problem Monday with provincial milk experts. Until June 1, when the province will open its own testing laboratory in Vancouver, milk testing is being done for the government by the University of B.C.

Mr. Richter said pesticides used to control grasshoppers, mosquitoes and cutworm on the prairies often end up in feed used for B.C. cattle.

Manufacturers

Parley Warned Of Duplication

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's secondary manufacturing is riddled with costly duplication of facilities, Industry Minister Drury said Monday.

He told the 93rd annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that businessmen—and his new department—should examine ways of eliminating more of that duplication.

"We must constantly seek to realize the benefits of specialization and to make maximum use of the advantages of low-cost materials, superior design and unique technology," he told the 1,200 delegates.

INEFFICIENT

Mr. Drury said much of Canada's secondary industry is high-cost, uneconomic or relatively inefficient by world standards.

Canadian businessmen were facing an apparently endless list of problems, of which technological change and foreign competition were only two. These problems were all interrelated and should be tackled in a co-ordinated fashion.

KEEP TARIFFS

Joining Mr. Drury in a forum on trade, R. J. Woxman, president of Kelvinator of Canada Ltd., called on the businessmen to ask the government to defer for as long as necessary "any commitment to change major policies in our present tariff structures." He said Canada's future growth is tied to the growth of secondary manufacturing.

"Our present methods of employing tariff applications, while unsuitable to some, have thus far permitted our secondary industries to grow even though this growth rate has not been as spectacular as well as all would like to see."

SERVES 60 CENTRES

Trans-Canada Air Lines serves 60 Canadian centres and 20 cities in the U.S., Europe and the Caribbean with a fleet of 75 planes.

R. C. Gibson, director of Simpson's Ltd., told the manufacturers they should keep control of the distribution of their products so they wouldn't be "prostituted in third - rate stores."

He said the manufacturers who have not been able to control the distribution of their goods "have seen their lines go into discount stores, have seen the prices cut mercilessly and in a few short years in some cases have seen their goodwill with retailers, built up over the years, converted into open hostility."

NO YIELDING

In the association's morning session, Justice Minister Favreau told the delegates there must be no yielding to threats of unreasonable demands in Canada's search for unity. He said nothing could be more retrogressive than a theory for Canada's political future that would fragment the country economically.

Students Protest

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Nine thousand college students demonstrated in four South Korean cities Monday to demand economic reforms and the elimination of corruption in the government. There were frequent clashes with police.

Police arrested more than 200 demonstrators in Seoul and Chuncon. Other protest meetings were held in Taegu and Pusan but there were no disturbances.

Plane Hits Soft Spot; No One Hurt

HUDSON HOPE (CP) — A Pacific Western Airlines passenger plane carrying 38 passengers and a crew of four was damaged Monday when a wheel hit a soft area of the runway and was "pulled off" on a shoulder.

No one was injured and passengers were placed on a bus to continue to their destination.

Early Meeting Aim on School Building

District 61 school trustees hope for a meeting this week with architects on the building program authorized by the passage of Saturday's referendum so that work on urgently needed schools can begin as soon as possible.

DELAY FOR SOME

But trustee Peter Bunn hopes that on those not needed immediately, Christie Point and Reynolds Road high schools for example, that there'll be as long a delay as possible for research purposes.

Mr. Bunn said he didn't want to see concrete boxes going up but that there should be plenty of time for research so that schools would be well designed and of a flexible nature.

Mr. Bunn feels that schools should be designed with future community use in mind and thus must be more flexible.

Mine Injures East German

HANOVER (Reuters) — A 38-year-old East German had the lower part of one of his legs blown off by a mine as he fled to West Germany near here during the night, Lower Saxony officials reported Monday. He was reported in good condition.

Six profit-making machines from B.C. Tel that "talk business" day and night

These modern pieces of equipment are typical of the many profit-making services now provided to businesses by B.C. Tel. Designed to meet the changing needs of progressive businesses, they can carry a multitude of information from hand-written messages and photographs to data and machine language of every kind.

A particularly useful feature is their ability to transmit information to unattended receivers. They speed your vital information to offices and other parts of the country, not only by day but also during the after-hour period while you sleep. Thus, the information is available for immediate action the following morning. Literally, these B.C. Tel communication machines talk business day and night.

The data speed (1) can flash a 5,000 word message coast to coast in five minutes flat. Teletype (2) speeds printed messages, reports and orders over private lines between two offices or many offices. It is also useful for preparing orders on printed forms.

B.C. TEL
BRITISH COLUMBIA TELEPHONE COMPANY

With TWX (3) you can "dial-'n-type" private communications to over 60,000 other Canadian and U.S. businesses at speeds of 100 words a minute. The data set (4) enables you to transmit business machine language from many sources, punch cards, paper tape or magnetic tape all over conventional telephone circuits at modest rates.

Facsimile equipment (5) allows you to reproduce anything on paper across any distance, including messages, forms, diagrams and drawings up to 14 x 8½ inches. The Electrowriter® (6) actually lets you "write by phone": messages, formulas, sketches, musical notations, etc. appear on the paper of the receiving instrument at the same instant as you write or draw them on the transmitting instrument — again, across any distance.

Designed to save your time and increase your communication efficiency, these services can make a big difference to your profit picture. Moreover, they cost considerably less than many people imagine. Call our Marketing & Sales Department today and have an experienced Data Communications Consultant suggest how we may help you with your operation.

Dominion Drama Festival

'Bridesmaid' Wins Bundle

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—A Toronto theatre group, bridesmaid a year ago, went home yesterday from the Dominion Drama Festival with a bundle of prizes, including the coveted festival trophy for the best play and $1,000 in cash.

The Barn Players of Broadview YMCA won the top awards for their production of A Taste of Honey. Shelagh Delaney's play about life in the Manchester slums. Individual members of the company won three of the four best-acting trophies.

MOST ENJOYABLE

Lieutenant-Governor W. J. MacDonald presented the prizes Saturday night at the close of an eight-play festival that adjudicator Philip Hope-Wallace of London, Eng., said was the most enjoyable of four he has judged in Canada since 1949.

The Barn Players reached the Canadian finals for the first time at Kitchener, Ont., last year when a Sherbrooke, Que., company won the DDF Final Festival Trophy. They received one award then.

BEST ACTOR

Saturday they not only took the best-play prize but Roy Wordsworth Geoffrey won the Henry Osborne Challenge Trophy as best actor. Stellar Finlayson Jo the Nella Jefferis Challenge Trophy as best actress and Dorothy Spencer Helen the best supporting actress award, presented by the Canadian Association of French-language radio and television.

SOLD OUT

Amateur adjudicators who sold out the theatre for every performance had forecast a victory for the Barn Players after their polished Wednesday night performance right up to the final show Saturday night, My Three Angels by the St. Thomas More players of Hamilton.

The Hamilton players won a festival plaque as the English runner-up, the Martha Allan Trophy for visual presentation, and the best supporting actor award for Larry Alford's performance of Joseph, one of the three convicts.

WIN FRENCH AWARD

The French runner-up was La Quintrala by Les Compagnons de Gil of Montreal who won five other individual and group prizes. Three of the awards were automatic since their play was the only Canadian and only French production in the festival.

Sentimental favorites for awards were the North Kamloops PTA theatre wing whose 32-man Chips With Everything company included 24 high school teen-agers. There was thunderous applause when their young director Tom Kerr, a Kamloops teacher, was named best director

Mr. Hope-Wallace said he had made the award—the Louis Jouver Trophy — for the way in which Mr. Kerr brought "very immature but enthusiastic players up to festival pitch."

Dianne Pinard, 22-year-old television performer and diction teacher, won a $3,000 Quebec government prize for study in Canada and abroad, open only to French-speaking actors, directors or set designers, and a $200 scholarship to the Banff School of Fine Arts.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

Peggy Johnston of the St. Thomas More players won a $150 scholarship to Banff and Anne Lauriault of the Montreal group won $200 for an actor or actress under 25 presented by La Fondation Les Amis de l'Art.

Special Requests

Songs for Cyprus? 'Yeah, Yeah, Yeah!'

Relatives and friends of Canadian servicemen serving in Cyprus can send special requests to radio shows in Cyprus, Victoria army officials announce.

Both the British Forces Broadcasting Service and the Cyprus Broadcasting Corporation have daily light music shows for members of the United Nations force.

Light orchestral pieces and songs in French or English may be dedicated to members of the Canadian contingent. A brief message may be sent as well.

Requests should include the name or names of the senders, the name of the soldier and his unit, and the selection of music, giving title and orchestra or singer.

Requests should be mailed to: Music Request Service, Welfare Officer, Headquarters Canadian Contingent, United Nations Force in Cyprus, CAPO 5001, Canadian Armed Forces Overseas.

Glanford Has Own Victoria Parade

It was dreamed up by David Crawford, 4094 Glanford, who persuaded his mother, Mrs. Norma Crawford, to arrange the affair after watching Victoria's parade.

* * *

The parade went from Glanford and Agnes along Tait, Broadway, Agnes, Glanford, Broadway, Baxter, Glanford and Baker to Glanford School.

* * *

Man Escapes, Wife Caught

BERLIN (AP)—A young married couple struck out yesterday to flee from East Germany.

West Berlin police reported that the 23-year-old husband got through five rows of barbed wire into the West Berlin suburb of Spandau. But he had to watch helplessly as East German border guards caught his 19-year-old wife and led her away.

The PARKER JOTTER isn't "just another ballpoint"

This is a precisely engineered writing instrument. Something you can be proud to own. We think the Parker Jotter is underpriced at $1.98. Here's why:

1. The t-ball tip (a Parker exclusive) won't skip on any surface. It lets you write beautifully without bearing down.
2. The whole refill makes a quarter turn every time you push the clicker button. This exclusive feature ensures that the point wears evenly and smoothly.
3. Because of its large ink supply, the Parker Jotter writes up to five times longer than ordinary ballpoint pens.

Remember when Bonded Stock came in that plain old bottle?

Well it doesn't anymore.
That fine old bottle has launched its last sip.
We've designed a new container for Gooderham's Bonded Stock. Tall and refined with classic lines.
(Our whisky's now in the best shape ever).
And we age Bonded Stock longer now as well.
To make every drop just a little more mellow.
One thing though. Bonded Stock's smooth lightness we don't change. Our blenders know a good thing when they taste it.
Judging from the number of people who buy Bonded Stock Whisky, so does the rest of the country.

Gooderham's have been distilling fine whiskies since 1832

Canadian Average: 37.05 miles per gallon

We've always claimed that the Volkswagen 1200 gets 38 miles to a gallon of regular gas.

Some customers say they get 45 mpg. Others report in the low thirties. (It seems to depend on how and where they drive.)

So we decided to settle the question once and for all. We sent questionnaires to VW owners across Canada.

The results are above. (You can double check our average simply by adding the figures together and dividing by 313.)

So much for gas.

How about oil?

There's one more thing we should tell you.

The average Canadian doesn't buy a Volkswagen.

But then who wants to be average?

FBI Men At Site

Agents Reconstruct JFK Assassination

DALLAS (CP-AP) — More than six months after the assassination of president John F. Kennedy, federal agents still are reconstructing the murder scene and a leading New York newspaper caused more speculation when it published a picture Sunday of a man standing near the Kennedy car that resembles Lee Harvey Oswald, who was charged with killing the president.

The New York Herald Tribune called the picture, taken by AP photographer J. W. Altgens, "probably the most controversial photograph of the decade."

COULDN'T HAVE FIRED

If it was Oswald in the picture near the Kennedy car, he could not have been the man who fired the shots that killed the president from a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

Federal agents reconstructed the assassination scene Sunday as cameras recorded the repeated sequence of events from various angles.

500 WATCH

He resembles Oswald, but at the time, the AP quoted R. S. Truly, superintendent of the depository, as saying the man in the picture was Billy Lovelady, another employee of the firm, where Oswald also worked.

"I showed the photograph to Lovelady," Truly said at the time, "who said 'Yes, that's me.'"

'Keep Open Mind,' Graduates Told

Before Canada can play its full role in international affairs, Canadians must learn to live in effective partnership and the university-trained youth of Canada must be ready and willing to take up this momentous challenge, graduates of the University of Victoria were told at first annual congregation yesterday.

The speaker was Msgr. Jacques Garneau, director of the National Council of Canadian Universities and Colleges.

WORK TOGETHER

The speaker, a descendant of the first Frenchman to settle on land granted to him by Samuel de Champlain on the Heights of Quebec, said his work on the council has proved that English and French can work together.

He said the difference between the two races stems not so much from lack of knowledge of mutual problems but from different philosophical influences in both cultures.

IMPORTANT GOAL

He stressed that critical intelligence is as important a goal for universities as the transmission of skills, particularly today when the world seems "to be easily swayed by a six-word newspaper headline."

Graduates were warned that education is not an act of salvation after which one is safe for eternity, and that age, any age, is simply a guarantee of age.

TRUE LEADERSHIP

"True leadership is a combination of courage, vision, tolerance and foresight," said Msgr. Garneau.

He advised the graduates to "be yourselves," "keep an open mind" and "have a friendly heart."

Msgr. Garneau expressed his pleasure at being asked to speak, briefly in French and he was thanked in that language by principal Dr. W. H. Hickman.

Security Revised

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has established a new policy on security investigations as promised during the last session of Parliament, Prime Minister Pearson said Monday. In a written reply for David Orlikow (NDP, Winnipeg North), he declined, however to give details except to say that formal communication had been made on the matter to all government departments.

Retiring July 31

VANCOUVER (CP) — Capt. Merrill Robinson, blind since he was hit by shrapnel in the First World War at the age of 18, announced his retirement Monday from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

University Grants Its First Degrees

By TED GASKELL

University of Victoria's first degree-granting ceremony yesterday was described by Chancellor J. B. Clearihue as "a dream come true."

Chancellor Clearihue used the occasion to publicly thank citizens of Victoria for their loyal support and liberal contributions to the university and to warn that unless new buildings are ready by 1966 at the latest to house an expected 2,400 enrolment, registrations will have to be drastically reduced.

He stressed the urgent need for an arts and education building to cost $1,700,000 and a geography and administration building to cost a similar amount.

Installed

The need for these buildings means the university must start a five-year fund campaign, he said.

Feature of yesterday's ceremonies was the installation of Dr. Clearihue as chancellor by Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes.

His first official act as chancellor was to confer an honorary doctorate of laws on Dr. Jeffree A. Cunningham, professor emeritus of biology and zoology and former vice-principal and registrar of the university.

Step Down

Chancellor Clearihue announced the resignation of Dr. W. H. Hickman as principal in order to devote his time to academic duties. He also announced that Dean Harry Gilliland, who retires in 1965, had asked to be relieved of his duties as dean of education.

Tradition and color which had their origins in the middle ages played an important part in yesterday's brand-new ceremonies, the first such to be held since the university became independent of its parent UBC institution last July.

Brilliant Color

The gymnasium's 1,300 seats were filled with parents, guests and graduates. On the stage, adding even more color to a brilliant afternoon, were members of the faculty wearing robes of their alma mater.

There was the scarlet and blue of Oxford; the red, white and blue trimmed with ermine of Paris; the orange and red of Rhodes University from South Africa; the blue and white of Cambridge; the blue silk of Yale and the colors of most of the other major universities.

University of Victoria added its own color with the purple gown of Chancellor Clearihue; the blue of the acting president, Dr. Hickman, and the French-grey silk with blue and gold piping of the gowns of the board of governors.

Word for Word

The gowns and the ceremony itself were new, except for the chancellor's last comment to the students. This was word for word that used at UBC to show the university's former affiliation with the older institution.

Bishop Remi de Roo, who gave the invocation, was among special guests, including the presidents of UBC and Simon Fraser University and the chancellor of UBC, Dr. Phyllis Ross.

Most of the 168 students in the graduating class were present to receive their degrees, but a few were conferred in absentia.

The students in the red hoods of arts, the gold of science and the blue of education, headed by honor students, filed to the platform to be announced by Dean Robert Wallace in the case of arts and science and Dean Gilliland of education.

Each moved across and knelt bareheaded before the chancellor, to be ceremonially "capped" by a touch from the chancellor's own mortarboard and from there to be congratulated by the president and finally to receive a diploma from registrar R. R. Jeffels.

Processions

The afternoon's ceremonies started with the installation of Dr. Clearihue, who has been associated with the university since he was a student in 1903.

Two processions, to music of the HMCS Naden band under the direction of Lieut. E. T. Jones, marked the ceremony. Graduates filed into the building before the ceremony and out after it, behind the mace, donated by the first graduating class of Victoria College, and carried by Dr. Lewis Clarke, long time faculty member.

Graduate Grove Class Gift

A grove of trees was the gift of the 1964 graduating class to the University of Victoria, and will grace the Gordon Head campus Quadrangle.

A cheque for "Graduate Grove" was presented to H. B. Elworthy, development board chairman, at Monday's graduating class luncheon.

Other presentations included one to Principal Dr. W. H. Hickman, one to Dr. John D. Peter, class honorary president, and to university registrar R. R. Jeffels.

Murphy May Leave

Reeveship Race In Saanich?

By JACK FRY

A mid-summer reeveship byelection for Saanich loomed up yesterday when Reeve Stanley Murphy acknowledged he is trying for an overseas teaching job.

* * *

Murphy

He said he is awaiting final approval from Ottawa for a two-year posting as English teacher in Southern Rhodesia under the Canadian government's external aid program, before officially announcing his resignation.

Meanwhile, horses were out of the gate ahead of the starting gun on what promises to be one of the wildest reeveship elections Saanich has had in many years.

With the teaching contract yet to be signed, Reeve Murphy's resignation still to be submitted and a byelection yet to be called, at least four possible candidates seemed to be in the running yesterday.

They are three councillors and one outsider: Couns. Hugh Curtis, Harold Todd and Joseph Casey, and Saanich motel and greenhouse operator Edward Lum.

Biggest incentive for councillors to seek a mid-summer reeveship is the fact that even if they lose, they can probably get back on council a few months later, in the regular December election.

"I would give it very serious consideration," said Coun. Curtis, who topped the polls both in 1961 when he first ran for office and in his 1963 re-election.

"I would be an independent candidate. I am certainly opposed to a group running the municipality (the Saanich Information Committee) and I think most of the electorate are, too," he said.

Coun. Todd, in his seventh year on council and whose term expires in December, said, "I will give it lots of consideration, and I hope we will have a good contest."

Coun. Leslie Passmore, a well-liked councillor whose term also expires in December, said that instead of seeking the reeveship he would throw his support to veteran councillor and former reeve Joseph Casey, whose present term also expires in December.

No. 1 for Job

"As far as I'm concerned, Casey has the qualifications, he is retired and can make the reeveship a full-time job, and he is the No. 1 man for the job, if he will run," said Coun. Passmore.

But Coun. Casey was noncommittal. He said it is "too premature" to talk about a byelection.

Mr. Lum, owner of the Cherry Bend Motel, who came within 184 votes of a tie with Reeve Murphy in the December, 1963, municipal election, said: "If a byelection comes up, I'll definitely be in the running."

Elsewhere, Gordon Campbell, president of the Saanich Information Committee, which has emerged as a powerful force in Saanich elections, said last night the committee had not yet learned of the possible reeveship byelection.

The information committee backed Couns. Casey, Passmore and Todd in the 1961 election, and Couns. Douglas Crosby, Gregory Cook and unsuccessful candidate William Campbell in the 1963 election.

Reeve Murphy said last night: "I've been trying to get this overseas posting for the past four years. I've been close before, but never this close."

Third Year

The 48-year-old reeve, who has been an English teacher at Victoria High School for the past 15 years, is married and has five children. This is his seventh year on Saanich council and his third year as reeve.

"I am excited about the prospects of the new job—it would be a wonderful opportunity for me and my family," he said.

Formal approval for the overseas posting may come from Ottawa any day, but the official contract would not be signed until June, and the posting would be effective in September, he said.

Although Reeve Murphy said that while he felt it is still too early to announce the Southern Rhodesian posting which seems probable, he has advised councillors of the "possibility" of a summer reeveship byelection.

Businessmen

All-Day-Long Parkers Hit In Oak Bay

Sixteen residents of an apartment block at 2129 Florence Street last night petitioned Oak Bay council to take action against businessmen parking in front of their homes.

Since restricted parking was introduced in the nearby small business community, they claimed, businessmen had begun parking all day outside the block.

NO ACCESS

"It is necessary to either double park or walk a block and a half," say the tenants. "Ample parking is provided for tenants on off street parking, but this leaves no space for visiting cars of any description."

MUCH WORSE

On nights when Oak Bay Junior High auditorium was in use, they said, the situation was much worse.

They suggested that council set aside space for three cars marked "for apartment use only."

IN CENTRE

"At the present time a house is being offered for sale right in the centre of the business section," said the tenants. "It would seem to be an ideal time for these merchants to combine their resources and provide their own off street parking and leave the frontage on Florence for the use of those who pay taxes on it, or in our case, who contribute their share through rent."

Council referred the matter to traffic and transportation committee.

HANDFUL OF ITEMS

It was mostly referring and receiving and filing for council last night. With little discussion council rubber-stamped a handful of items.

Refused was a renewed application from J. A. Stewart, 2040 Carrick Street, to build a small concrete retaining wall on the right-of-way in front of his house.

Council decided it was not its practice to permit building works on public land.

Granted, subject to recommendations by the engineer, was an application for a 10-foot easement from high water mark on McNeil Bay to a B.C. Hydro pole near 572 Beach Drive. The easement is to permit Saanich Broadcasting Company Limited to lay a submarine power cable to transmit power to their installation on Trial Island.

'Horror' Seizing Island

Unless firm steps are taken now to control land use in British Columbia the province's natural character will soon be lost, Hugh Stephen warned last night.

"The still largely virgin lands of the Saanich Peninsula lie at this moment almost helpless before the advance of speculative developers whose carelessness of aesthetic values is matched, in many cases, only by their complete cynicism of the public good," the prominent Victoria businessman said in a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce in Burnaby."

"Among thinking people, the horror of the desecration that is slowly overtaking this superb countryside is fully comprehended.

"Yet we are endeavoring to contain this wholesale robbery of our heritage by the employment of five aged municipal constables, each jealous of his prerogatives, each supremely complacent about the superior merits of his own precinct and each relatively unconcerned about the crime across his borders," said Mr. Stephen.

He told chamber delegates, "we are confronted by an apathy on the part of our citizens and the almost complete failure of the sources of public authority to regroup their forces so that sufficient power may be assembled to resolve the issues."

Port Alberni

Bennett Called Childish

PORT ALBERNI — A leading alderman said last night it is Premier Bennett's responsibility to make up the disaster fund deficit, but Mayor Les Hammer took sharp exception to this view.

Ald. Jack Perry called the premier "childish" in refusing to send more of the multi-million-dollar provincial surplus.

SHOT BACK

"I want to be dissociated from all political remarks," he said. "It appears these disaster victims of ours are caught in the middle of a (B.C.-Ottawa) political hassle."

The remarks followed receipt of a letter from Prime Minister Pearson saying the $250,000 grant could not be increased.

Negotiations Delayed

Carpenters Seeking Peterson Parley

Victoria carpenters, complaining of delays in negotiations for a new contract, will seek a meeting with Labor Minister Peterson, spokesman E. T. Staley said last night.

He was speaking on behalf of some 450 to 500 members of Local 1598 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, which has been without a contract since its three-year agreement expired March 31, 1964.

SEEK 60 CENTS

The carpenters, who now earn $3 an hour and work a 40-hour week, are seeking an additional 60 cents per hour.

They decided, during a special meeting last night in the Union Centre auditorium, 2750 Quadra Street, to set up "a committee to meet with the minister of labor to get clarification on several items pertaining to negotiations."

Carpenters were told last night the Victoria Building Industries Exchange, which negotiates with them the contracts recognized by contractors in this area, "never made a sincere effort to negotiate and had refused to attend two meetings arranged for that purpose."

The union applied for a conciliation officer March 11, and eventually it was decided a conciliation board would be set up—although it is not fully constituted to this date, said Mr. Staley.

Tour Planned

Girl Dies

Sylvia Sheldrake, 12, of 5345 Hamsterley, died yesterday evening after being rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the Saanich fire department ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marsh, 3027 Fifth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Patricia, to Mr. Terry Lorne Toone, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Toone, 1003 Moss Street. The wedding will take place at Christ Church Cathedral on June 20 at 7 p.m. with Rev. R. Hoult officiating. —(Campbell Studio)

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am 36 years old, have a good job, a well-furnished apartment, a car of my own and some money in the bank.

I have a pretty face but have battled the weight problem all my life — and lost. When I get frustrated I eat, and I've been frustrated for 10 years. Three men have taken my time and my love and left me flat. The last man actually stood me up at the church.

Six months ago I met a very attractive musician. He doesn't like to work and has admitted that he hasn't had to work much because women have always been happy to let him move in. He has been married once and is now divorced.

The man is intelligent, good company and I am sorely tempted. When I told him he could not move in unless he married me, he said "O.K., but don't expect me to be faithful more than a few months because it's not my nature."

I want desperately to show my friends that I CAN get a husband. Give me your opinion and please be kind.—ALETTA.

Dear Aletta: I hate to deflate you, Toots, but there is not a woman alive who can't get a man to marry her if she sets her standards low enough.

This man has nothing whatever to recommend him. If you want to pile up some Brownie points with your friends why don't you show them you can pass up an offer of marriage? This is much more impressive than accepting a poor one.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: A fine, middle-aged woman sits with our children when we go out for the evening. The children adore "Aunt Maude." She is reliable, warm-hearted and great fun.

Aunt Maude is a deeply religious person. But her religion is different from ours and she confuses our children. Aunt Maude also speaks to them about sin in a way that is not compatible with the teachings of our religion.

Last Christmas Aunt Maude gave the children jewelry with religious symbols. These symbols are not worn by people of our faith.

The children are beginning to argue with us about the differences and since Aunt Maude has presented her views as the ONLY true views, we are in a bad spot. Please advise me. — A MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Have a frank talk with Aunt Maude. Ask her not to discuss religion with your children and explain that they are becoming confused.

Let your children know that there are many religions in the world and everybody should believe his religion is the true one. Don't tell them Aunt Maude is wrong—just say her ideas happen to be different.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I'm going to be married on my 19th birthday. My fiance, Bud, is 21. I am proud of the fact that although I've had lots of dates I have kept myself pure for my husband.

Last night Bud and I had a long talk. I asked him to tell me about his past. Now I wish I hadn't asked him. He went steady with a girl two years ago and they did some things they had no right to do. I was so disappointed in Bud I wept.

Please help me clear up my thinking. I'm very unhappy and terribly confused. Will I ever get over feeling disappointed and let-down?—MARTHA

Dear Martha: I hope so, Kiddo. Of all the useless, energy-consuming pastimes — moping over what happened two years ago takes the cake.

Young men who are asked such questions ought to tell the girl not to be so nosey.

Chapter Gives $150

At the May meeting of the Aldyen Hamber Chapter IODE held at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Laird, 3688 Crestview Road, Mrs. Esther Pitkethly reported that the chapter's $150 donation presented to the Cerebral Palsy association at their last annual meeting is being used to purchase a tapestry loom and bench for the use of patients.

The annual Penny Sale, held jointly with Navy League Chapter in the fall, was discussed and a meeting will be held May 27 at 8 p.m at IODE headquarters on Courtney Street.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Dianna Lockyer, regent, presented Mrs. Eileen Medley, who is leaving shortly to make her home in Edmonton, with a compact bearing the IODE crest together with the best wishes of the members.

Refreshments were served from a Venetian cloth covered table centred with pink and yellow rosebuds, lily of the valley and matching tapers. Mrs. Medley, the guest of honor, cut a cake made by Mrs. Kay White.

Marriage at Ann Arbor For Jacqueline Holt

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place in First Presbyterian Church at Ann Arbor, Michigan, when Jacquelaine Muriel Holt became the bride of Mr. Arthur Thomas Storey, DDS.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Holt, 966 Linkleas Avenue, Victoria, and the late Mr. Holt. Her grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Laing, long-time residents of this city. She graduated from Victoria High School and the University of Michigan.

Groom's parents are Mrs. Edwin A. Storey, Sarnia, Ont., and the late Dr. Storey.

Dr. Lionel H. Laing gave his niece in marriage. A band of crocheted Venice lace accented the empire waistline of the bride's floor-length sheath gown of Irish linen. Three rows of the same lace trimmed the slim skirt. Lace appliques also highlighted the detachable cathedral train. White roses, stephanotis and lily of the valley were in the cascade bouquet.

Dr. James E. Harris proposed the toast to the bride at the wedding reception. White rosettes topped a three-tier wedding cake which centred the head table. White stocks, snapdragons, narcissi, pink roses and snapdragons completed decor.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the bride wore an aqua-toned linen suit, piped in brown and gold, and beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests included the principals' mothers. Also attending were the bride's aunt, Miss Muriel Laing, Victoria; her cousins, Miss Marion Laing, Guelph, Ont., and Miss Laura Laing, St. Joseph, M.; also Mrs. Trevor K. Storey, Sarnia.

How to outsmart your husband

Without letting him know, open a Canada Trust Deposit Account and make regular deposits. In six months or less, interest at 4% will be added to your savings. Show it to your husband—and if he doesn't admit you're a smarter "saver" than he, it'll be because he has opened a 4% Deposit Account of his own.

If you're hesitating about opening an account at Canada Trust read on:

(1) Your money earns 4% interest from the first day.
(2) You can withdraw part or all of your money at any time.
(3) You can make deposits of any amount.
(4) Canada Trust offices are open from early morning through late afternoon for your greater convenience.
(5) A good way to protect your "nest egg" money against unexpected expenses is to have two accounts—the 4% Deposit Account, and a regular 3½% Savings Account with chequing privileges to make bill-paying easier.

Think you'll open an account (or two)? Come on in. It'll be our little secret.

Flag Should Add Up Past – Not Subtract It

By EILEEN LEAROYD

The flag.

I do not think much of the Pearson flag.

The man in Vancouver who hoisted a tablecloth with three maple leaves on it knew what he was doing.

It is not much of a flag if you can use an old tablecloth or tea-towel and make your own.

It's a pale, puerile, parody of a flag. It looks like a tea wrapper, or a label that comes in the mail reading, "Three cents off on soap."

It lacks richness and depth. It is an artistic disaster — sterile and anemic. It looks like something one might pull out of a first-aid kit.

I have other objections to the pale pennant Mr. Pearson wants to hoist over our heads.

* * *

If he wants it as a sop to Quebec, he is in for a surprise. It won't work, unless he adds some fleur-de-lis as well. Quebec has its own flag which is flown everywhere in that province, including over every gas station. Quebec is blue with the flag of Quebec.

Then many do not like the way Mr. Pearson has tried to insinuate this new flag upon us. He states, "It is not a political issue," but adds, "the government stands or falls on the issue."

If Mr. Pearson wanted to know how Canadians really felt, he would take a national plebiscite, so it seems obvious he does not really care what the majority of people think.

And yesterday, a continuing poll conducted in Victoria indicated 601 Victorians were for the Red Ensign as against 254 for the Pearson flag. So the ratio established is interesting.

If we must have a new flag—if it were true that a majority wished a new flag—then it should add up to something, not be a subtraction.

A "more-Canadian" flag should contain the Union Jack blazing in its field, with maple leaves and also a fleur-de-lis. It should have dash, and rich color and it should embody the history and pageantry of our past.

It shouldn't look like a faded, splattered tablecloth. Maybe the new pennant is suitable for a ferry service; but surely not a country.

There is a lot more to this in intangibles.

Mr. Pearson has said that the millions of new immigrants to Canada, want a new flag.

* * *

But do they? The biggest melting pot in the world, the United States, has not been seen striking the Stars and Stripes for newcomers. They just go on adding more stars. So they know a flag is an addition, not a subtraction.

New Zealand and Australia were wise enough to keep the Union Jack in a quarter of the field of their flags. Even the local Hawaiian flag, retains its Union Jack, because this is part of their history. After all you cannot eliminate historical fact by an erasure. And if you try, it seems a pity.

* * *

I have a theory about the flag of one's country.

Stability has never been more important than now in a world rocked by fears—fears of war, fears that arose from loosening of things like family ties, and the simple virtues.

Very few people seem to have the fortitude to stand firm about these simple virtues anymore. The individual has been cast adrift in an over-populated, cynical world, left to mouth brittle phrases for fear of being accused of sentimentality.

* * *

This facade of meaningless phrase and a sort of non-belief in everything, is all very well for the surface. But what happens underneath?

Well thousands upon thousands of these people are spending thousands of hours in mental homes, or on psychiatrists couches, trying to figure out who they are, and what they stand for.

They lack stability in what is now a fairly rootless society.

The above is an individual matter, but the same thing applies on a national scale too. Collectively we must have some institutions, some symbols to honor. The more subtractions, the greater the loss.

Therefore our flag should be a proud symbol, richly bound up in our past, expressing a continuity between the years gone by and the present.

So, if we must have a new flag, let it be an addition, not a subtraction.

Motor South On Honeymoon

Chapel of St. Michael and St. Luke in the Veterans' Hospital was the setting for a pretty wedding uniting in marriage Maxine Ellen Ellis and Mr. Kenneth Frederick Bradley.

Rev. Dr. Douglas Kendell performed the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Ellis of Regina, Sask., and the son of Mrs. F. T. H. Bradley, Essex, England, and the late Mr. Bradley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Robert O. Bell, wore a short length, two-piece ensemble in white embossed silk. Her veil was shoulder-length and she carried white roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Muriel McKeown, maid of honor, was in copper lace over taffeta. She carried Talisman roses. Miss Ariana Fairhurst as junior bridesmaid, wore a bouffant skirted frock of yellow floral sheer over taffeta. Yellow carnations and Talisman roses were in her colonial bouquet.

Mr. Chris Heeman was best man. Mr. Sidney Love and Mr. Dai MacLeod ushered.

Mr. Ted Fairhurst proposed the toast to the bride at a reception which followed at the King George Terrace home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carnham. Spring flowers and hand crocheted cloths were on the refreshment table and bride's table which was centred with an attractive wedding cake.

The bride chose an Italian knit coat and dress outfit in dusty rose with tulle hat en tone and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley motored south on their honeymoon and on their return will reside at 2012 Allenby Street.

Mrs. Norah Bellman of North Vancouver was among the out-of-town guests.

Travel East To Guide Conference

How Girl Guiding can best meet the changing psychological, social and personal needs of the modern girl is the chief concern of the annual meeting and conferences of the Girl Guides of Canada—Guides du Canada being held in Halifax this week.

Guiding officials from every province are attending sessions to be held at the University of King's College in the Nova Scotian capital. Dr. L. T. Hancock, Halifax, director of the Maritime School of Social Work, delivered the keynote address at the official opening last evening.

Mrs. A. F. Wilks of Vancouver and Mrs. K. B. Clysdale of St. Marys, Ont., deputy chief commissioners, are in charge of arrangements for the conferences.

Mrs. Roy Holmes, Vancouver, provincial commissioner for B.C., and Mrs. A. B. Sanderson, of Victoria, are attending the sessions.

YES, YOU CAN HALT EARLY-AGING SIGNS!

It's dry skin that puts crow's feet, little lines and flaky patches on a woman's face. Yet it's difficult to avoid the drying effects of modern life: indoor heating, low-fat diets, heavy makeup, etc. That's why you need POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. This famous cream, now with Allantoin, starts to repair dry skin in just 10 minutes! Allantoin floats off lifeless surface skin cells, speeds penetration of Pond's rich moisturized lanolin into parched tissues far below. Almost overnight, your skin takes on new tone, looks smoother, softer, younger. Pond's special formula will re-moisturize even the driest complexion. Get POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM . . . use it regularly. In jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissues.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved . . . actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

8 CARDS OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor would like to thank our many friends for their kind messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings. We would especially like to thank the management and staff of the T. Eaton Company, who with their many acts of kindness, have helped us so much during our sad bereavement, the loss of our dear son Edmund Arthur Taylor.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all who sent cards and flowers to our dear sister and Aunt, Mary, during her lengthy stay in hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Cuppies, management and staff at Royal Oak Private Hospital. Also for floral tributes at her passing. Special thanks to Rev. Dr. Parsons, the organist, pallbearers and McCall Bros. — The Allan family, nieces and nephews.

9 IN MEMORIAM

LAMONT — In loving memory of Alex R. Lamont who passed away May 26, 1963.

His memory is our keep sake,
With which we'll never part,
God has him in his keeping,
We have him in our hearts.
He left us suddenly,
His thoughts unknown,
But left us a memory,
We're very proud to own.

McWILLIAMS — In loving memory of our father, Robert McWilliams, who passed away May 26th, 1963. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed.
—Dulcie, Olive and Bill.

PENMAN — In memory of my loving wife, Allie Marie Penman, who passed away May 26, 1963.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary trouble and trials are past.
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,

WATSON — In loving memory of Charles Ernest Watson, who passed away May 26, 1962.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home—it was his will;
Within our hearts he liveth still.

REVERSE MUSTWINPOT STARTING AT $200

If you call bingo in 50 calls or less you win $200. If nobody bellows "Bingo," then

51 CALLS PAYS $190
52 CALLS PAYS $180

and so on. No matter how many calls it takes, the

GAME PAYS AT LEAST $100

and probably more. If you're slow to win, you'll only get (only, he says!) $100 on this game, but the FORWARD Mustwinpot will really pay off for you! This is a full card, starts with

$100 AT 50 CALLS
$110 AT 51 CALLS
$120 AT 52 CALLS

and goes right on for as long as it takes to get a bingo—so it's

$210 AT 61 CALLS

and so on. Every other game pays at least $30 and we reckon to pay out over $400 at the friendly game in St. Patrick's Hall, Trent St. (off Fort near Foul Bay, opposite Safeway. Take Willows-Uplands bus). Game starts

21 MALE HELP WANTED

TECHNICAL-PROFESSIONAL SALES

Canadian manufacturer with strong international affiliations offers an excellent career opportunity in the technical professional marketing field. This position combines marketing and scientific service to professional people and has excellent prospects for specialization and senior level responsibility.

More important than specific experience or scientific training is a genuine interest in personal contact, the ability to absorb and utilize technical/scientific information and the desire for increased job satisfaction and earnings. A comprehensive training program will be given to candidates in the age bracket of 23 to 32 with a minimum of 2 years university. Starting salary $6,000 plus incentive bonus in the $1,100 to $1,200 range, company car, expenses, and fringe benefits. Relocation provided if necessary. Apply to Victoria Press, Box 104. Our employees are aware of this advertisement.

WILL I SUCCEED?
This is the doubt many people have when they are considering entering the selling profession. We can answer this for you by giving you a series of written tests at no cost or obligation to you. The results of these tests will be frankly and honestly discussed with you. We will offer you employment only if the results show that your chances for success are above average. If you are accepted you will join people who earned up to $18,000 in commissions last year and you are welcome to inspect their T-4 slips. Generous advance system available. You'll have nothing to lose and everything to gain by investigating this opportunity now. Whatever your present occupation may be apply to Victoria Press, Box 111.

EXPERIENCED ESTIMATOR FOR commercial and residential buildings for established construction firm. Steady employment for the right man. Medical plan, etc. Reply stating age, education, experience, references and salary expected. All information strictly confidential. Victoria Press, Box 682.

ARE YOU EARNING $600-$800 A month? If you are over 25, conscientious, ambitious, and thinking to better your way of life in worthwhile permanent employment, we offer you a car, a profit sharing plan and many other benefits. Sales experience necessary. Contact Don White, Telmac Small Cars, EV 5-5441.

Opening lead: Spade ace

A light distributional opening bid allowed North-South to bid a grand slam on this duplicate deal, while those who didn't open failed to bid even a small slam.

When South opened one diamond, North naturally thought of slam and decided to bid slowly, showing his distribution. Over South's two diamond rebid, his strange three club bid was meant to discover if partner could support hearts or bid no trump. When South did neither, North knew that the hands fit very well, since South didn't have wasted values in spades. Therefore, he jumped to five diamonds. South, who had made minimum bids so far, realized that partner was very short in spades, since he had bid two suits and jumped in the third. When South showed the club ace, that was all North needed to hear. His partner would not be making a slam try with two small hearts or missing the diamond king, so North bid seven.

Declarer ruffed the opening lead in dummy and set about establishing the hearts. He ruffed a low heart, entered dummy with the diamond ten, and ruffed another heart. Getting back with the diamond queen and incidentally drawing the last trump, he ruffed a third heart. Now a spade was ruffed with dummy's last trump, the heart ace was cashed, dropping the king, and declarer discarded his spade and two small clubs on the good hearts. The club ace and two more trumps took the last three tricks, making the grand slam.

When South did not open the bidding, North usually opened with four hearts, trying to shut out the spade suit. Four hearts was made, losing only three trump tricks, but the slam was lost forever.

Duncan Building

Tourist Promoters Bid On Famous Landmark

A city council investment in the future of Bastion Square paid off handsomely yesterday when an offer was received for purchase of the former Duncan Storage building for development as a tourist attraction.

William Enman, president of Royal London Wax Museum, offered a $4,000 down payment on the full $40,000 purchase price of the building.

His letter said if the offer was accepted "an entertainment attraction of a calibre similar" to the successful wax museum operation would be started in the Bastion Square premises within three years.

No use has yet been decided, but an antique car museum and a period restaurant are under consideration.

FACE-LIFT

Mr. Enman and his partner, A. L. Batty, also undertook to give the exterior of the building a face-lift within 18 months. The letter said the building would not be destroyed or moved

The offer, however, is contingent upon the city carrying out its plans for landscaping of Bastion Square and creating a mall leading to Government Street. This project is included in the capital budget to be voted on June 18.

Mr. Enman said: "We will work very closely with the city in the development of Bastion Square . . . and put forth our best efforts to assist in the restoration of this important area."

Mayor R. B. Wilson said the latest development justifies the action taken by city council which paid $41,000 for the building just over a year ago in order to save it from threatened demolition.

MINOR POINTS

The $1,000 difference between the negotiated sale price and what the city paid for the property is reflected in a strip of land at the rear which the city is retaining.

The finance committee voted to accept the offer subject to settlement of some minor points in the proposed agreement.

Emotion Hits At Heart

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personality tests may soon be able to predict whether a given man will suffer a heart attack.

In a study published in the current issue of "Tobacco and Health Research," scientists said they found a definite relationship between a man's physical reaction to events and heart attacks.

"The hard-driving man with excessive ambition and competitiveness" is most susceptible to coronary disease, the seven physicians concluded after analyzing the personalities of more than 3,500 California men.

Data was gathered by measuring the emotional reaction of each volunteer as he listened to a tape-recorded speech designed to irritate him.

You know what you like in whiskies. You've probably been living with the one kind for five, ten, maybe twenty years.

All we ask is one minute.

We think that's all it will take to change your mind. That, and merely one taste of a whisky called Time.

You'll find you have never known a rye like this. The taste is light, warm, smooth. A gentle whisky—but not at all kind to old habits.

It gives you a lot to think about for 60 seconds.

Time enough.

Gymanfa Ganu

Song Festival Held Sunday By Welsh Body

GUEST ARTIST

Special guest artist was well-known singer Peter Yelland, of Duncan, who sang both in the afternoon and the evening. Among his selections were items from Handel's Messiah including "Comfort Ye" and "Let Every Valley."

Visiting conductor was Mrs. Ann Davies-Thomas of Riverside, California. Other artists included Mrs. Evan Walters, of Vancouver, who was accompanied by her husband on the organ; George Roberts of Prospect Lake, and Ivor Roberts, president of the Cambrian (Welsh) Society of Vancouver.

ORGANIST

Committee chairman of the Gymanfa was Mrs. Florence Quinn, and guests and soloists were introduced by Victor Williams, president of the Cymrodorion Society.

Symphony Artists Announced

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Symphony Orchestra has announced the list of guest artists for the 1964-65 season.

Included in the list are John Ogden, pianist; George London, leading baritone of the Metropolitan opera; Alfredo Campoli, violinist; pianist Geza Anda and the twenty-three-year-old pianist from Israel, Daniel Barenboim.

An interesting event will be the return to the podium of Jacques Singer for a pair of concerts in early January. On the same program will be Vancouver pianist Jan Cherniavsky.

World's Fair

Jews Picket Mural

NEW YORK (UPI)—The head of the American Jewish Congress (AJC) and 11 members yesterday carried out their threat to picket the Jordanian pavilion at the World's Fair and were arrested.

Dr. Joachim Prinz led his Jewish task force to the pavilion to protest a mural which the Jews have branded as offensive and which they claim depicts Israelis as "barbarian warriors."

DESERT BLOOM

The mural shows a refugee Arab mother and child and has an inscription speaking of "terror's fierce practitioners" using "gains ill-got to disturb the Jordan's course and make the desert bloom with warriors."

Among those arrested with Prinz were Theodore Bikel, 40, star of the broadway hit show, "The Sound of Music," a member of the AJC national governing council.

Robert Moses, world's fair president, has resisted pressure from several Jewish organizations and other sources to have the mural removed. He is due to appear in court Wednesday to answer a show cause order concerning it.

More than 150 policemen were massed to prevent trouble.

Moderator Approves Tom Jones for Adults

SASKATOON (CP) — Rt. Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, moderator of the United Church of Canada, said in an interview Monday he saw nothing wrong with adults seeing the motion picture Tom Jones, which won an Academy Award as the best film of 1963.

"The question of censorship is a difficult and complex question. My understanding of Tom Jones is that it is a cross-section of English life at the time the author put it into print.

"Personally, I don't see anything wrong with people having an opportunity to see—perhaps under restricted arrangements as we have in Ontario—a play like Tom Jones."

The film recently was allowed to be shown under restricted conditions in Alberta after first being banned. So far it can not be shown in Saskatchewan.

Broadcasting Study Announced

OTTAWA (CP)—A special three-man committee to study broadcasting in Canada and to lay down recommendations for new federal broadcasting legislation was announced in the Commons Monday by State Secretary Lamontagne.

It has been asked to complete its report by early 1965 to permit legislative action that year.

Members of the committee are R. M. Fowler, 57, of Montreal, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and chairman of the 1956-57 royal commission on broadcasting; Marc Lalonde, 34, Montreal lawyer who worked on the Norris inquiry into marine labor strife, and Ernest Steele, 44, recently appointed undersecretary in Mr. Lamontagne's department.

99 Days, No Trial

Briefly Free, Back to Cell

TORONTO (UPI) — An international incident loomed Monday over the plight of a Buffalo Negro held in Toronto's Don Jail for 99 days without a trial.

Harry Hooper, 27, finally got his day in court but it lasted only a few minutes.

Little time was wasted returning him to the cell he has called home since Feb. 16.

Hooper came to Toronto Feb. 15 to visit his four-year-old son and his estranged wife. A day later he was arrested, charged with common assault on his wife, and tossed in jail.

NO ANSWER

This charge was later dropped, said assistant defence attorney Allan Mintz, and not replaced until May 19 when Hooper was charged with unlawfully refusing to answer a question under Section 50 of the Canada Immigration Act.

A letter from Hooper to prominent criminal lawyer Arthur Martin was turned over to the Ontario Legal Aid Society and immediate steps were taken to clear up the situation.

The case came before Magistrate Robert Dnieper last Friday, but because of prejudicial evidence given by an immigration department official it was turned over to Magistrate S.

Race Riot Injures Soldier

CAMBRIDGE, MD. (UPI) — A Negro National Guard soldier was slightly wounded by gunfire and other troopers injured Monday night in rioting quelled when troops fired tear gas in the negro section of this racially torn Eastern Shore community.

Other National Guardsmen were injured by flying bottles, rocks and other debris when they attempted to stop a demonstration. A spokesman said at least one other soldier apparently suffered a broken arm from a hurled rock.

Service Plans Known Today

OTTAWA (UPI) — Defence Minister Hellyer will unveil details of his defence reorganization plans when he appears before the Commons defence committee today, it was learned Monday.

The 24-member committee will launch its study of the bill, currently before the Commons, that would abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff committee to replace it with a single commander-in-chief of the three services.

DETAILS

Mr. Hellyer, in presenting his bill to the Commons, said he intended to appoint the present staff committee chairman, Air Chief Marshal Frank Miller, as Canada's first Chief of the Defence Staff.

The defence minister is expected to go into detail at the committee hearing, and outline for the first time the new branches of the proposed single service force. Each branch will be headed by a senior officer responsible, under the Chief of Defence Staff, for his branch in all three services until complete unification is achieved.

France Pushes Wedge Deeper

While the U.S. state department was turning down French and Soviet proposals for a new Geneva conference on Laos—the third country carved from the former French Indochina 10 years ago—French ambassador Roger Seydoux urged the UN security council to call a new conference on Cambodia, a proposal rejected by the United States.

Timely French Toast

Port Alberni

Bennett Called Childish

PORT ALBERNI — A leading alderman said last night it is Premier Bennett's responsibility to make up the disaster fund deficit, but Mayor Les Hammer took sharp exception to this view.

Ald. Jack Perry called the premier "childish" in refusing to send more of the multi-million-dollar provincial surplus.

SHOT BACK

"I want to be dissociated from all political remarks," he said. "It appears these disaster victims of ours are caught in the middle of a (B.C.-Ottawa) political hassle."

The remarks followed receipt of a letter from Prime Minister Pearson saying the $250,000 grant could not be increased.

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Police clashed with Communist-led students and with looters Monday in the psychological backwash of a soccer stadium riot which claimed 328 lives. (See story, pictures on Page 3.)

An official police statement said the hundreds were killed in the tragedy Sunday when police tear gas bombs hurled at rioters stampeded a panicked crowd into barred exit tunnels. Most victims were trampled to death.

Police clashed last night with students at the University Plaza. There students were demonstrating for the resignation of interior minister Juan Languasco, who controls the nation's police, for alleged police brutality at the National Stadium Sunday.

Mounted police rode into the estimated 1,000 students, swinging truncheons as assault police waded into them on foot. Police water cannons rolled up and began to douse the students. The police then hurled tear gas bombs as the students retreated toward the campus.

Blood Flows In Valley Of Tears

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Racial strife between Negroes and East Indians raged Monday in the Valley of Tears, 25 miles from this British Guiana capital, and the death toll in four days of violence rose to 26, police reported.

Sawmill Goes Up Like a Torch

The alarm went out that the Ideal Sawmills Company Limited, owned by Mohan Singh, at Tyee Road, was burning at 9:40 p.m. Within 15 minutes flames shot 20 and 30 feet into the air as the whole single-storey building was completely consumed.

MORE MEN

Fourteen city firemen in a truck and with two pumps rushed to the blaze and a call went out for 10 additional men.

"I had orders coming up worth around $100,000," he said. "I can't imagine how it started. And the place isn't fully covered by insurance for something like this."

ON SCENE

Union Goons Wreck, Rip New Homes

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A gang of union terrorists raided a housing project with clubs, axes and hammers yesterday, causing thousands of dollars damage. The raiders chased 35 workmen from their jobs and injured at least six of them, including a man hurled downstairs.

The builder had been warned by an anonymous telephone call to expect trouble at the construction project because alleged non-union employees were working.

SWEPT THROUGH

They smashed locks with axes, ripped out window sills, drain pipes and iron banisters and tore newly-placed kitchen cabinets from the walls.

WELL PLANNED

The attack apparently had been well planned. As the gang swept through the project, small details broke off from the larger group and entered individual houses.

Police Grab Dynamite, Separatists

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police claimed yesterday to have smashed another revolutionary group dedicated to Quebec separatism through violence.

Flag Issue

MPs Planning Filibuster

OTTAWA (CP)—A nucleus of MPs, mostly among Progressive Conservatives with an occasional New Democrat, say privately they are prepared to fight the current flag issue to a general election.

None seems ready to accept Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to propose a non-confidence motion in the minority Liberal government on the issue, but the dissidents are preparing to mount what ultimately may become a filibuster against the flag resolution scheduled to be introduced to the Commons later this week.

WEAPONS

Or it might count on the pressure of public opinion swinging so strongly against the filibusters that they would stop short of their objective.

And there was speculation the government might seek this defence by placing implementation of the Canada pension plan on the order paper directly following the flag motion, thus placing filibustering MPs in the position of holding up pensions.

This suggestion followed a statement by Prime Minister Pearson that, if provincial approval is forthcoming, the government may have the pensions amendment on the order paper this week.

NDP QUERY

Mr. Pearson made the statement in answer to Stanley Knowles (NDP, Winnipeg North Centre) who asked whether discussion of the amendment would be given precedence over discussion of a Canadian flag.

He declined to say what matter would have precedence.

NIBBLE AWAY

Meanwhile, the opposition continued to nibble away at Mr. Pearson on the flag issue, but there still wasn't a hint as to what the proposed maple leaf flag will look like.

The prime minister gave away nothing when Erik Nielsen (PC—Yukon) sought comment on a report broadcast over radio station CKNW in New Westminster that the flag will have one red maple leaf on a plain white background.

"Purely speculative," said Mr. Pearson.

But the prime minister did tell

No Flag —Banner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Don Poirier, 25, a Socialist soapboxer says flags are created by capitalists to gain loyalty from the subjected masses and exploited workers.

Mr. Poirier climbed aboard a green stepladder in Stanley Park Sunday and declared: "Any flag is just a rag in the view of the Socialist Party.

When queried about the Socialist Party's own flag, Mr. Poirier said: "Well, it's not exactly a flag. It's a banner."

Heaviest Spaceship

Moonshot Test Set for Today

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States' biggest rocket is set to orbit the world's heaviest known spaceship today in the space test opener of the drive to land men on the moon by 1970.

A 190-foot Saturn-1, using a new guidance system that makes its own computations in flight, is expected to set new spacecraft weight record when it hurls an 8½-ton dummy Apollo moonship into earth orbit.

ON SCHEDULE

The 18-hour countdown for the 1,500,000-pound thrust rocket and its payload started yesterday and was proceeding on schedule toward the 7 a.m. launch time today.

Weather, a factor which could affect the launch, is not expected to be a problem. A space agency spokesman said the outlook is "beautiful."

The shot, first space launching here in six weeks, is a twin test of the rocket and the basic three-man moonship design. Scientists consider the flight "an important phase in the test program."

Rhodesia Unwelcome

LONDON (CP) — Southern Rhodesia likely will be excluded from the forthcoming conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, it was learned Monday.

Waving Cutlass, Fanny Hill

His Lordship Now Pirate

* * *

Wearing a purple buccaneer cloak and brandishing a cutlass, his screaming lordship boarded a 60-foot fishing boat and announced plans to anchor outside territorial waters and beam his scream back to the British.

His boat will join two pirate ships, Radio Caroline and Radio Atlanta, all trying to break the BBC's radio monopoly.

* * *

Caroline and Atlanta are in it for the advertising. Screaming Lord Sutch — real name Dave Sutch — said, however that he will not take ads.

"There are thousands of talented youngsters in Britain all waiting for a chance," he said.

* * *

"Radio Sutch will give them a break. And if only one group really clicks, then I'm in business as a manager."

Sutch said he plans to start broadcasting Wednesday with his own group to provide the core of programs.

He plans three daily transmissions totalling seven hours.

The late night transmission, he said, will include bedtime stories—readings from Lady Chatterley's Lover and Fanny Hill.

* * *

Campbell to Open Village Units For Courtenay

By HARRY HARRIS

COURTENAY — Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, the local MLA, will officiate at 2 p.m. Sunday during formal opening ceremonies for the second stage of the Kiwanis village for senior citizens.

This second stage of development began in 1963 and cost $57,165. Financing was by local contributions including a land purchase donation from the city of Courtenay, a provincial government grant and a long-term Central Mortgage and Housing mortgage.

The earlier stage began in 1960, cost $49,360 and comprised four married units renting at $38 a month and two single units renting at $28.50 a month. Both figures do not include heat.

VOLUNTARY LABOR

The two stages represent a total cash investment of $106,525. Total voluntary labor by Kiwanis members and friends was more than 3,000 man hours.

Selection of tenants is made anonymously on a point basis by a tenant selection committee considering minimum-maximum income, age, self-sufficiency, area residency, etc.

IN FIVE YEARS

Future planning in the light of available land includes third and fourth stage developments within five years, depending on the demand and the continuing generosity of the public.

The public is invited to the opening. Refreshments will be served and the Comox District band will provide a concert.

School Vote Soon?

DUNCAN — Two school referendums may go before Cowichan district ratepayers this year, it was learned last night at a meeting of the district school board. No details were given.

The board instructed architects Hammond and Farmer to prepare plans for a $74,300 addition to Koksilah Elementary School, including two classrooms and an activity room.

Fire Fight Finished

Neighborly discussion after early-Sunday fire takes place between Gladys Shaw of Fulford and Salt Spring Island volunteer fireman Fred Hollings. Chimney fire in home of Bill Shaw and sisters Gladys and Cree was fanned by brisk winds and sent smoke pouring into living room, where several family heirlooms were located. Damage was minor. —(Bea Hamilton)

Fulton View:

Canada Will Die Out If Quebec Ever Quits

NANAIMO—Canada will cease to exist if Quebec goes, provincial Progressive Conservative leader Davie Fulton told a weekend meeting of the B.C. party's youth organization.

"Paradoxical though it may seem, the whole is larger than the sum of its parts," he said.

"I wish we were in power," said Mr Fulton. "(Separatism) is a very real problem—the continuation of Confederation and what kind of a country we're going to have in the next 100 years."

He said moderate thinkers were not taking a big enough part in the conflict.

Miss Mary Southin of Vancouver was less optimistic about separatism.

"We'll never solve that problem," she said. "We'll just have to learn to live with it forever."

Chemainus Groups Pass Lumber Grading Exams

CHEMAINUS — The B.C. Manufacturers Association has announced results of annual lumber grading examinations, held in April.

Everything Burned

ALBERNI — A rural home and everything inside burned Sunday night while the owners, young longshoreman Ande Poirier and his wife, were visiting her parents in Mission on the mainland.

The Poiriers, married a year ago, bought the home on Thompson Road off Beaver Creek Road last December. All their furniture was new.

Grandmother of 14 Dies in Car Crash

DUNCAN — A 60-year-old mother of seven children and grandmother of 14 was pronounced dead on arrival at King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday morning after a two-car crash at James Street and the Trans-Canada Highway.

Police said the victim, Mrs. Georgina Henrietta Paterson of Lake Cowichan, was the only passenger in a car driven by her husband Stanley, a Hillcrest Lumber Co. millwright.

VICTORIA MAN

They said the driver of the other car was William Lawrence McLaren of 431 Arnold in Victoria.

The police reported Mr. Paterson's car was travelling east on James and attempting to cross the highway when the northbound car of Mr. McLaren met its right side.

Funeral services will be held in Hirst's chapel at 2 p.m. Thursday and an inquest will begin in the same place at 7:30 p.m. June 2.

Mrs. Paterson, a native of Vancouver, came to Lake Cowichan about 10 years ago and was a member of the Order of the Royal Purple and IWA women's auxiliary.

Albernis Man Dies in Europe

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (CP) — Magnus Andreas Hansen, 60, a Port Alberni dispatcher, died Monday on his way to visit his mother in Norway. Police said the probable cause of death was a heart attack.

Horse Riders Fight Back

ALBERNI — Irresponsible motorists who deliberately attempt to frighten horses on the roadsides were scored by Alberni Valley Riders at a recent meeting of the club.

It was mentioned by a member that there had even been instances of small motorcycles following the horses along trails.

TAKE NUMBERS

Members decided riders should take licence numbers of cars or motorcycles being operated in a manner endangering riders or others and report to the RCMP. Members of the police detachment have given assurance of co-operation in an attempt to eliminate the hazard.

HAYSEED BALL

Plans were made for a hayseed ball in Cherry Creek Hall, with Miss Heather Scoffield in charge of arrangements.

The club's fourth annual June horse show will be held on the club field at the fall fair grounds starting at 10 a.m. June 14. Plans are being completed by a committee headed by Mrs. T. W. Richmond.

OFFICIALS NAMED

Jim Maxim of Richmond will be the judge and Hartley Haynes of Alberni the ringmaster. Show secretary is Mrs. F. McCarthy, RR 2, Alberni, phone 3-3006. Prize money for third place and ribbons for fourth place are to be given, as well as senior and junior aggregate trophies.

Money when you need it.
No questions asked.

When you've owned a Manufacturers Life permanent insurance policy for a few years, you find it becomes more than insurance protection for your family. It also accumulates cash values which are as good as money in the bank - because they're guaranteed, in writing, right on your policy. (For example, a $10,000 whole life policy issued 16 years ago to a man at age 28 has already built up a cash value of $2,210.) The current cash value of your policy is, in fact, your money. You can use it later for retirement income. In the meantime, you can always use it as collateral for a loan.

You may borrow direct from Manufacturers Life. No questions asked - and no credit check. Low rate of interest (guaranteed at the time you take out your policy), and completely flexible repayment plans.

There are many other investment advantages in a Manufacturers Life policy. For instance, because the cost is only a few dollars a month, you're able to start investing when you're young and your income relatively low.

Arbitration Likely

Major Alberni Strike Nearing Settlement?

The strike of 60 office workers, which has idled a total of 2,900 MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River employees in the Alberni Valley, may be close to settlement.

Mac-Powell officials and representatives of the Office Employees International Union Local 15 agreed yesterday to consider submitting the dispute to binding arbitration.

The proposal for arbitration was made by Labor Minister Peterson after six hours of futile bargaining in his office.

The minister said the union and management officials asked to be given until today to accept or reject the suggestion.

The meeting was called Saturday at the request of the union after Mac-Powell sent a letter to all employees which the union said contained a salary scale "different" from any previous figures.

Mr. Peterson said both sides indicated during the six hours they were prepared to "modify their positions in some respects, but the modifications were not great enough to bring us to common ground."

He said he regards the situation as "serious" in that the dispute was minor but had led to "major consequences."

New Meetings Today

If the two sides agree to arbitration new meetings will be held today to iron out terms of reference. Mr. Peterson said he hoped that if his proposal wins approval today the workers will be on the job again Wednesday.

He hoped the two parties would be able to agree on an arbitrator but had expressed willingness to make the selection himself if necessary.

Mr. Peterson declined to give details on new proposals by management and the union "since both sides may wish to express their strongest position to the arbitrator."

The negotiations began at 9 a.m. and broke off for lunch at 12:30. The teams resumed talks at 2 p.m. and continued until 4:30 p.m.

Before the talks began, leaders of the five big unions whose men have refused to cross the picket lines gave Mr. Peterson a brief stating union security is the main issue.

The brief was signed by Walter Allen, president of the IWA Local 1-85; Jack Whittall, president of the pulp and sulphite local; C. Ross, president of the longshore local; P. J. Bowman, president of the papermakers' local, and Ernie Hancock of the electricians' local.

Union Security Hurdle

The brief said the five unions feel common ground for an agreement can be established "once the hurdle concerning union security has been surmounted."

It pointed out this was the office union's first contract and went on, in part:

"Unions have learned through sad experience that more than certification is required to protect their position as the collective bargaining authority of the employees covered by the certification.

"Only when adequate union security provisions have been negotiated into a collective agreement can a union be satisfied that the company has properly accepted the union as the collective bargaining authority and will continue to do so."

PC Women Endorse Red Ensign

Mrs. Olive D. Wilson, president of Victoria Women's Progressive Conservative Association, returned on the weekend from Nanaimo where the quarterly meeting of the Progressive Conservatives was held.

Highlight of the women's meeting was the sending of a telegram to Mr. John Diefenbaker endorsing the Red Ensign as the national flag.

Mrs. Davie Fulton and Mrs. Wilson poured tea at the reception and tea held in the Lake Shore Hotel on the Friday. Mrs. E. D. Strongitharm of Nanaimo, past president, was presented with an engraved silver bowl.

18,000 Nays?

IWA Leader Says Offer Faces Defeat

A settlement formula for the B.C. coast woodworkers' contract dispute will be beaten when the 26,000 members of the coast IWA vote in a secret ballot, an IWA leader claimed yesterday.

Weldon Jubenville, president of the 4,000-member Duncan-Nanaimo local, predicted 18,000 members will vote no.

The formula, drawn up by provincial conciliation officer E. P. Fisher, has been opposed officially or unofficially by Duncan-Nanaimo, the 7,000-member Vancouver local, the 4,000-member Port Alberni group and the 1,500-member Courtenay local.

It has won approval from only two big locals, the 6,000-man New Westminster unit and the 4,000-member upcoast loggers' local.

The stand of the 1,650-member Victoria local was not known. Mr. Jubenville said he had heard Victoria was undecided and unofficial reports said a membership meeting Sunday took no stand, and received no executive recommendation, for or against the formula.

Mr. Fisher proposed a 28-cent wage increase in a two-year contract, plus 15 cents for tradesmen.

Secret Balloting

Secret balloting will begin in all locals this week and must be completed by June 6. Deadline for signing the new contract is June 15.

Among smaller locals, the 1,400-member Haney unit was said to favor the Fisher proposal while a 300-member sublocal at Chemainus was against it.

Statements by Mr. Jubenville, IWA regional president Jack Moore and Vancouver local leader Syd Thompson during the weekend showed the formula has deepened a split which has plagued the union for years.

Mr. Thompson accused the regional officers of using the strike weapon as a thrust against the union membership by recommending acceptance.

Said Mr. Moore: "Nobody has threatened anybody with anything. The policy committee feels this is a good settlement."

Mr. Moore said the conciliation officer's terms would bring present base rates for woodworkers to $2.08 an hour with $2.64 an hour for tradesmen—up to wage standards in California, Washington and Oregon.

Management Proposals

Mr. Jubenville said the Fisher proposals are "obviously management's proposals."

"The membership, by turning them down, will force Forest Industrial Relations for the first time to seriously negotiate directly with the IWA negotiating committee.

"It is unfortunate that the regional officers, under the leadership of Jack Moore and Fred Feiber, have capituated to management-designed proposed terms of settlement and are following their same footsteps of 1962 by threatening the membership with a strike.

"In my opinion, the operators are prepared to pay the full shot rather than allow a strike to interfere with their drive for more and bigger profits."

In Port Alberni, a statement from the union executive conceded that the Fisher formula will "form a basis for settlement," but recommended a no vote over the travel-time issue.

They supported the original contract demand for a reduction in the 10-hour time period that is required by thousands of B.C. loggers to put in their eight-hour day, a demand that is not part of the formula.

"The 10-hour period is computed from established marshalling yards and return. Many loggers are away from home in excess of 12 hours," the local officers claimed.

Only Partial Gain

The executive members also said the increase of 15 cents recommended for this year would only partially eliminate the spread between the base rate in the IWA and other industrial unions in the woodworking industry.

"Automation has caught up with the forest industry and a shorter work cycle is necessary," the Alberni group said.

The IWA was approaching the shorter working time through increases in annual holidays and Mr. Fisher made no recommendation in this regard, they added.

A statement from Courtenay local president Max Salter agreed the travel time problem was a big one.

It also cited the lack of improved health and welfare benefits for casual workers, an extra week's vacation with pay and double time for overtime.

Mr. Salter urged that IWA wages be paid when logging firms let out work by contract or subcontract. He said the local favors the proposal for a payday every two weeks.

Wife's Burger Bogie Convinces 'the Boys'

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Mrs. John Popp, wife of a woodworker, took a hand in a union meeting to tell "the boys" what she thinks about pay raises, strikes and hamburger.

Mrs. Popp was on hand at the IWA local meeting at the weekend at which members considered whether to accept a conciliation officer's proposals to settle the dispute with coast lumber operators.

"I have been through a few strikes and I know that an IWA wife sometimes has to make hamburger taste like steak," she said.

Irked by Officials

Man Denies Dog In Car Two Days

A Victoria man said yesterday he is annoyed with the SPCA and the B.C. Ferry Authority at Nanaimo for claiming he left his dog in a poorly-ventilated car for two days during the Victoria Day holiday weekend.

He said he only left the dog seven hours and provided food, water and ventilation for the pup, as he had done "dozens of times."

RCMP CALLED

Ferry officials at Nanaimo called RCMP May 17, claiming the young animal was locked in the parked car with only a slight open crack in the window. They said they could see no food or water for the animal.

The owner said there was water left in the dog's dish when he returned from a trip to Vancouver Sunday afternoon, and both air vents were open in the car, as well as the window.

'HE LOVES IT'

"He really loves it in there . . . that's his home," he said.

He said the ferry officers were incorrect in their claims and the SPCA, which had been asking about the case in Nanaimo, was interfering needlessly.

Lights On Monday At Castle

Mrs. Georges R. Pearkes, wife of the lieutenant-governor, will press the button that will floodlight all sides of Craigdarroch Castle Monday night.

Accompanied by the lieutenant-governor, Mrs. Pearkes will officiate at the ceremony which illuminates for the first time the castle's north and east sides.

"We had hoped to also light the stained glass and the flower beds," said society president James K. Nesbitt yesterday. "But the money is not available this year."

To Bring Tourists

Bureau Needs More Money

In what promises to be a boom year for local tourism, Victoria Visitors Bureau may be forced to curtail its activities due to lack of funds, city finance committee was told yesterday.

A delegation headed by bureau president G. Conway Parrott told the committee an additional $25,000 would be needed this year to complete the program mapped out by commissioner Alan Maclean.

ALTERNATIVE

Mr. Parrott asked the city to increase its annual $50,000 grant to $80,000 or alternatively to match every dollar contributed by the business community over its 1963 total of $15,000.

Agreement by city council to the matching grant, said Mr. Parrott, would provide a stimulus to the business community which in the past has responded "rather poorly" to requests for financial support.

VITAL

"This attitude, I feel, is due to the fact that the bureau has not demonstrated to our businessmen that the tourist industry is vital to Greater Victoria's economy," the president said.

In an industry that is growing more competitive each year, the prospect of spending more money to bring visitors here must be faced, he said.

POOR RELATIONS

Commissioner Maclean said "the apparent reluctance" of businessmen to support the bureau can be attributed to poor public relations.

Steps are now being taken to open channels of communication between the bureau and the business community.

"The visitors bureau must have more money even if it is to continue to operate as it has done," the commissioner told the committee, "and I believe we should expand our operations."

SPRING VISITORS

During the Victoria Day holiday weekend "the greatest ever travel to Vancouver Island and Victoria occurred," said Mr. Maclean.

EXTEND SEASON

The commissioner added: "We are looking forward to a continuation of this state of affairs in the remainder of 1964."

Mr. Maclean said he is convinced the present short tourist season can be extended in both spring and fall by selling Victoria throughout B.C. and the Western U.S. and winter tourism can be increased in the Prairie market.

CONVENTIONS

He added that more convention business—"a field that has been terribly neglected"—can also be brought here in the off-season.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said he believes the visitors bureau today is "doing a much-improved job" but he added that the request for an additional grant to meet higher costs comes about two months too late.

BUDGET FIXED

"It puts the city council in an awkward position because our budget for 1964 is already established," the mayor said.

Mr. Parrott said the other municipalities are also being asked to increase their contributions and a delegation from the visitors bureau will appear before the Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee to plead its case next month.

Plan Going Ahead

Vocational School Won't Include Adults

Department of education is going ahead with plans for a vocational school in the greater Victoria area, but it won't include academic education for adults.

RCAF BUILDING

Adult education program, now conducted by School District 61, will be continued and expanded by the board which is seeking use of the RCAF Headquarters building at Quadra and Yates, now practically empty.

In a press release issued by Education Minister Peterson following a meeting with trustees of District 61 on adult education, the minister said that trustees have agreed to recommend a suitable site for the vocational school an dto suggest types of training.

Cost of the vocational school will be borne by provincial and federal government but to get money from Ottawa, the school must be built by 1967.

Last year the board and education departments each announced plans for adult centres but when it was seen that the plans would conflict, trustees presented a brief on the need for a daytime adult education centre which would permit teaching of academic course as well as training in local service industries.

Realty Firm Blasts City

NANAIMO — A local realty firm, in a letter read to city council last night, called for the dismissal of "some incompetent servant" who made an "incompetent interpretation of a simple law."

Dr. Mladen Zorkin, of M. G. Zorkin and Co., complained after he applied to finish the outside of the four walls of his Fitzwilliam Street office but council approved the finishing of only two of the walls.

NOT FAIR HEARING

Dr. Zorkin charged his lawyer did not receive "a fair or impartial hearing" and charged "misuse of authority is not only odious but harmful to the community at large."

Ald. Jack Parker said improvement restrictions have been placed on some of the older buildings in the vicinity of the Zorkin office because of their "limited life."

"I think this letter could have been couched in much more diplomatic terms," he said.

DISCUSS MATTER

Council decided to discuss the matter with Dr. Zorkin when he returns in July from a trip to Tel Aviv, where he is representing Canada at an international real estate congress.

Ald. Bus MacDonald told council of progress on Commercial Inlet development. A site survey has started, fishermen's floats are being revised, a firm is being hired to prepare contract documents and permission has been given to fill navigable water.

Tour Planned

Hunters Propose:

Declare Cougar Big-Game Animal

By LYNNE WALLER

* * *

NANAIMO—Two well-known Nanaimo hunters are campaigning to have the cougar made a big-game animal.

Jim Dewar, employed as a hunter by the provincial fish and game branch, and his brother Percy, a commercial hunting guide, say the rise of the cougar from a predator to a big-game animal would increase the influx of hunters to British Columbia and especially Vancouver Island, where two-thirds of the province's cougar population is produced.

* * *

His proposal came after he and Percy shot a large male cougar during the weekend after it killed one of the two sheep owned by Rev. J. Dixon, who was away preaching on Gabriola Island.

The 170-pound, eight-foot cougar was hit in the throat by one shot fired by Percy as it crouched in a tree. It fell to the ground 50 feet from the dead sheep.

* * *

Jim Dewar said the animal has "more or less no trophy value" as a predator but indicated the change in class would make it a prize catch for any hunter. He stressed cougars threatening farm stock or travelling in built-up areas must be done away with for the protection of the public.

"Nuisance cougars have definitely got to be hunted," he said.

* * *

Jim said his brother Percy accompanies him on a hunt when the cougar is known to be dangerous. He said they use well-trained track dogs when there is no snow on the ground.

Big Game?

He said 95 per cent of his job involves cougars.

"Once in a while I have a little bear trouble but it's mostly cougars," he added.

LABOR GOONS WRECK HOMES

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A gang of union terrorists raided a housing project with clubs, axes and hammers yesterday, causing thousands of dollars damage. The raiders chased 35 workmen from their jobs and injured at least six of them, including a man hurled downstairs.

The builder had been warned by an anonymous telephone call to expect trouble at the construction project because alleged non-union employees were working.

SWEPT THROUGH

A police labor squad detail had patrolled the area this morning, but left shortly before the gang of more than 100 men swept through the project swinging axes and hammers.

They smashed locks with axes, ripped out window sills, drain pipes and iron banisters and tore newly-placed kitchen cabinets from the walls.

WELL PLANNED

The attack apparently had been well planned. As the gang swept through the project, small details broke off from the larger group and entered individual houses.

99 Days, No Trial

Briefly Free, Back to Cell

TORONTO (UPI) — An international incident loomed Monday over the plight of a Buffalo Negro held in Toronto's Don Jail for 99 days without a trial.

Harry Hooper, 27, finally got his day in court but it lasted only a few minutes.

Little time was wasted returning him to the cell he has called home since Feb. 16.

Hooper came to Toronto Feb. 15 to visit his four-year-old son and his estranged wife. A day later he was arrested, charged with common assault on his wife, and tossed in jail.

NO ANSWER

This charge was later dropped, said assistant defence attorney Allan Mintz, and not replaced until May 19 when Hooper was charged with unlawfully refusing to answer a question under Section 50 of the Canada Immigration Act.

A letter from Hooper to prominent criminal lawyer Arthur Martin was turned over to the Ontario Legal Aid Society and immediate steps were taken to clear up the situation.

The case came before Magistrate Robert Dnieper last Friday, but because of prejudicial evidence given by an immigration department official it was turned over to Magistrate S.

Race Riot Injures Soldier

CAMBRIDGE, MD. (UPI) — A Negro National Guard soldier was slightly wounded by gunfire and other troopers injured Monday night in rioting quelled when troops fired tear gas in the Negro section of this racially torn Eastern Shore community.

Other national guardsmen were injured by flying bottles, rocks and other debris when they attempted to stop a demonstration. A spokesman said at least one other soldier apparently suffered a broken arm from a hurled rock.

Service Plans Known Today

OTTAWA (UPI) — Defence Minister Hellyer will unveil details of his defence reorganization plans when he appears before the Commons defence committee today, it was learned Monday.

The 24-member committee will launch its study of the bill, currently before the Commons, that would abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff committee to replace it with a single commander-in-chief of the three services.

Mr. Hellyer, in presenting his bill to the Commons, said he intended to appoint the present staff committee chairman, Air Chief Marshal Frank Miller, as Canada's first chief of the defence staff.

The defence minister is expected to go into detail at the committee hearing, and outline for the first time the new branches of the proposed single service force. Each branch will be headed by a senior officer responsible, under the chief of defence staff, for his branch in all three services until complete unification is achieved.

Timely French Toast

Police Grab Dynamite, Separatists

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police claimed yesterday to have smashed another revolutionary group dedicated to Quebec separatism through violence.

Three members of a group known as the "Quebec Independence Party" were arrested during the weekend and 200 sticks of stolen dynamite recovered.

An official police statement said the hundreds were killed in the tragedy Sunday when police tear gas bombs hurled at rioters stampeded a panicked crowd into barred exit tunnels. Most victims were trampled to death.

Police clashed last night with students at the University Plaza. The students were demonstrating for the resignation of interior minister Juan Languasco, who controls the nation's police, for alleged police brutality at the National Stadium Sunday.

Mounted police rode into the estimated 1,000 students, swinging truncheons as assault police waded into them on foot. Police water cannons rolled up and began to douse the students. The police then hurled tear gas bombs as the students retreated toward the campus.

Sawmill Goes Up Like a Torch

Firemen fought in vain last night as a $25,000 sawmill went up like a torch that could be seen for miles around Greater Victoria.

The alarm went out that the Ideal Sawmills Company Limited, owned by Mohan Singh, at Tyee Road, was burning at 9:40 p.m. Within 15 minutes flames shot 20 and 30 feet into the air as the whole single-storey building was completely consumed.

MORE MEN

Fourteen city firemen in a truck and with two pumps rushed to the blaze and a call went out for 10 additional men.

In the nearby SPCA building, dogs, scared by all the noise, barked and howled.

Father of four, Mr. Singh, looked on helplessly with a couple of his four employees as his business went up in smoke.

"I had orders coming up worth around $100,000," he said. "I can't imagine how it started. And the place isn't fully covered by insurance for something like this."

ON SCENE

Extra firefighter on the scene to help the first city firemen to arrive was John Desmond Shaw who stays at the Salvation Army hostel on Johnson Street.

Blood Flows In Valley Of Tears

GEORGETOWN (AP)—Racial strife between Negroes and East Indians raged Monday in the Valley of Tears, 25 miles from this British Guiana capital, and the death toll in four days of violence rose to 26, police reported.

Laos

Troops Fight In Trap

VIENTIANE (AP) — About one-third of Laos' battered neutralist army, surrounded by Communist forces near the Plaine des Jarres, was locked in battle Monday in an all-out effort to break out of the trap.

The defence ministry said 1,500 neutralist troops and 23 tanks, routed from a stronghold at Muong Kheung on the northwestern fringe of the strategic Plaine, had been trying in vain since Sunday night to make a breakthrough.

Military sources said reports from the battle zone, 110 miles northeast of Vientiane, indicated it was the heaviest fighting since the pro-Communist Pathet Lao launched their offensive 10 days ago.

Flag Issue

MPs Planning Filibuster

OTTAWA (CP)—A nucleus of MPs, mostly among Progressive Conservatives with an occasional New Democrat, say privately they are prepared to fight the current flag issue to a general election.

None seems ready to accept Prime Minister Pearson's challenge to propose a non-confidence motion in the minority Liberal government on the issue, but the dissidents are preparing to mount what ultimately may become a filibuster against the flag resolution scheduled to be introduced to the Commons later this week.

WEAPONS

Or it might count on the pressure of public opinion swinging so strongly against the filibusterers that they would stop short of their objective.

And there was speculation the government might seek this defence by placing implementation of the Canada pension plan on the order paper directly following the flag motion, thus placing filibustering MPs in the position of holding up pensions.

This suggestion followed a statement by Prime Minister Pearson that, if provincial approval is forthcoming, the government may have the pensions amendment on the order paper this week.

NDP QUERY

Mr. Pearson made the statement in answer to Stanley Knowles (NDP, Winnipeg North Centre) who asked whether discussion of the amendment would be given precedence over discussion of a Canadian flag.

He declined to say what matter would have precedence.

NIBBLE AWAY

Meanwhile, the opposition continued to nibble away at Mr. Pearson on the flag issue, but there still wasn't a hint as to what the proposed maple leaf flag will look like.

The prime minister gave away nothing when Erik Nielsen (PC—Yukon) sought comment on a report broadcast over radio station CKNW in New Westminster that the flag will have one red maple leaf on a plain white background.

"Purely speculative," said Mr. Pearson.

But the prime minister did tell

No Flag —Banner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Don Poirier, 25, a Socialist soapboxer says flags are created by capitalists to gain loyalty from the subjected masses and exploited workers.

Mr. Poirier climbed aboard a green stepladder in Stanley Park Sunday and declared: "Any flag is just a rag in the view of the Socialist Party.

When queried about the Socialist Party's own flag, Mr. Poirier said: "Well, it's not exactly a flag. It's a banner."

Heaviest Spaceship

Moonshot Test Set for Today

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States' biggest rocket is set to orbit the world's heaviest known spaceship today in the space test opener of the drive to land men on the moon by 1970.

A 190-foot Saturn-1, using a new guidance system that makes its own computations in flight, is expected to set a new spacecraft weight record when it hurls an 8½-ton dummy Apollo moonship into earth orbit.

ON SCHEDULE

The 18-hour countdown for the 1,500,000-pound thrust rocket and its payload started yesterday and was proceeding on schedule toward the 7 a.m. launch time today.

Weather, a factor which could affect the launch, is not expected to be a problem. A space agency spokesman said the outlook is "beautiful."

The shot, first space launching here in six weeks, is a twin test of the rocket and the basic three-man moonship design. Scientists consider the flight "an important phase in the test program."

Rhodesia Unwelcome

LONDON (CP) — Southern Rhodesia likely will be excluded from the forthcoming conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, it was learned Monday.

Waving Cutlass, Fanny Hill

His Lordship Now Pirate

Wearing a purple buccaneer cloak and brandishing a cutlass, his screaming lordship boarded a 60-foot fishing boat and announced plans to anchor outside territorial waters and beam his scream back to the British.

His boat will join two pirate ships, Radio Caroline and Radio Atlanta, all trying to break the BBC's radio monopoly.

Caroline and Atlanta are in it for the advertising. Screaming Lord Sutch — real name Dave Sutch — said, however, that he will not take ads.

"There are thousands of talented youngsters in Britain all waiting for a chance," he said.

"Radio Sutch will give them a break. And if only one group really clicks, then I'm in business as a manager."

Sutch said he plans to start broadcasting Wednesday with his own group to provide the core of programs.

He plans three daily transmissions totalling seven hours.

The late night transmission, he said, will include bedtime stories—readings from Lady Chatterley's Lover and Fanny Hill.
